

One Body, One Ummah

Hi! My friend's name is Laila
She is my age and she is from Libya
My other friend's name is Samar,
She is my age too, and she is from Qatar.

We pray together
We read Quran together
We do charity together
And we say du'a together
The best thing is that we see each other

Oh no! Samar is sick
We pray she recovers quickly
I make for her a hot drink
And Laila makes a funny trick

After a few days, Samar became fine

We are happy again
We pray together again
We read Quran again
We say du'a again
We really are as the prophet says:

We are one body
We are one ummah

One Body, One Ummah

We were born differently
Race, accent, and skin color might be different
We might be differ in the view
But, does difference build the gap?

Islam brings us to the word of "ummah"
We then are same
The same in what we follow
The same in what we worship
The same in what is targeted: Jannah
The sameness under the words of Allah
The sameness because of Allah This sameness that we believe to bring us to re-meeting on the day of judgment

The meeting to testify to the wound and victory that we felt
The meeting to witness that we are inseparable even the disease brutally attacked
We attack back by the 'real weapon' to the enemy

We might live differently but our prophet brings us to the "same" body, same feeling, and same tauhid Just by dua to the One and Only, we win as one ummah

One Body, One Ummah

We are one body
We are one ummah
We share with anybody
We follow the Sunnah
We protect our body
We love Allah
We share our pain
We share our relief
We always gain
We never become grief
We use our brain
We get high relief

We are never filled of shame
We become a commander in chief
We use our brain
We never give up
We never try to do haram stuff
We always have backup
We never think it's enough
We always use good clothes to dress up
We never try to do a sin
We always do Ibadah
We always try to dodge a sin
We are Abdullah (Servant of Allah)

We are one body
We are one ummah

"Together We Are Jolly"

When I woke up this morning
I was flying!
With all my Muslim friends plants animals and birds
But we all were in one body
And we were all jolly!
But not even one was the same
Then I realized that it's not a game

When I had deep thoughts
I found the right answers
We are all tamed
To worship the same Lord
We all accept Tawheed
Which is the seed in our faith
We pray salah, fast, and read the Holy Qur'an

After the clock strikes ten
I felt pain in my heart
It seemed like an arrow had hit me
So I looked around to see
I saw a little girl
She was about to fall
She was suffering a disease the money was not at ease
And I was feeling sad
Her condition was bad
All of us gave her a penny
Which made her happy

I woke up from my dream
We must help the one in need
It's like planting a seed
Of happiness

We are all one body
Together we are jolly!

We should care for each other
Because we are sisters and brothers
Do you remember how the Prophet Cared for all of us?
We should follow him, not put up a fuss
When someone is gone
You will be surprised when you see
How much you cared for them
It will feel like you just lost something precious
Like a gem

One body, one ummah
Means that you care
And this action is actually
Very rare
Because love is not something
We all share
When you're gone
Someone will care
And they will say:
I wish you were here
They will look up to you and say:
I wish you were standing here
Right by me
Have you ever lost a family member?
Isn't that someone you look up to
And remember

I pledge to Islam, my religion
To be faithful, loyal and honest
To serve Islam to my best ability
And I pray for Allah's assistance.
I have promised to be a Muslim
I have promised to work for Islam
I have promised to serve Islam
Reading Quran is our promise
Reading everyday everynight
To fulfill it we say
We are one body, one ummah
That should always stay the same.

"THE MUSLIM
UMMAH IS LIKE
ONE BODY, THAT ONE PART OF
THE BODY FEELS PAIN THE ENTIRE BODY FEELS IT'S EFFECT"

One Body, One Ummah

We are all together Doesn't matter where we're from Doesn't matter about our color
What matters is that we believe in ALLAH
If one of us gets hurt it affects all of us
If one of us gets burnt we all get a blister If one of us gets scared the wound will show on all of us
Being united is to be one just like our Muslim community.
When your friends get hurt help them when your teachers need help, help them When your parents need help you should help them

The believers are like tall palm trees
Strong solid that doesn't bend
It braces dates as sweet as sugar
God commanded them to be like a single rope
They are bound by affection and compassion
Remind them to be one nation
Believe their love for others and what they love for themselves
Communion between their hearts
Miracles are not made by humans
The prophet likened them as one body
If one of them got hurt, the other is hurt Like a member, I complain about hitting the entire body
They resembled our Prophet with one structure pull each other
We are believers, we are a body, building and one entity

When we are one body nothing can stop us
When we are one body the weak are protected
When we are together were the best

All of us are one body, nothing can cross us.
We all have one hobby and it's sharing
When your kind we have a strong body
So let's not make anything get to us for one nation is our weapon to conquer
