

Islamic Schools League of America
K-12 Reading List
Books Recommended for Islamic Values and Excellent Writing

This list suggests appropriate books for students and rates them based on the following criteria:

- * Well written book with minimal or no un-Islamic values.
-  Very well written book with at least one Islamic value.
-  Strongly endorsed book that is excellent in terms of reading enjoyment and contains Islamic values.

The initial book list, ratings, and summaries are primarily the work of Dr. Freda Crane Shamma.

This section contains 188 book titles for approximate reading levels of K-4

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Alakija, Polly	Catch that Goat! A Market Day in Nigeria	*	K-4	A mischievous goat causes havoc as she runs through the market, but Ayoka finally catch her. No mention of religion, but all the illustrations show Islamic dress.
Aliki	Feelings		K-4	With minimal words and maximum illustrations, children are encouraged to consider the feelings of others, and in the process have great feelings of their own.
Arkhurst, Joyce Cooper and Jerry Pinkney	The Adventures of Spider: West African Folktales	*	K-4	These tales are not identifiable as Muslim tales, but they are from Muslim West Africa.
Asim, Jabari and Aaron Boyd	Daddy Goes to Work	*	K-4	A young girl goes to work with her father and helps him type his report and give a presentation. Good family interaction.
Baker, Keith	The Magic Fan		K-4	This book is about having a hobby or occupation that helps others. Villager people don't like Yoshi's magic bridge until it saves them from a tsunami.
Bang, Molly	The Paper Crane		K-4	A paper crane left by a thankful stranger, whom they fed although he was penniless, leads to good fortune for a restaurant owner down on his luck. The man's young son works with him.
Barnett, Mac	The Case of the Case of Mistaken Identity	*	K-4	This is a book that should appeal particularly to boys who don't usually like to read - exciting and funny. Steve checks a book out of the library and all-of-sudden a group of gun toting librarians, the police, and some bad guys are after him. So who is the good guy?
Berry, Christine and Maria Cristina Brusca	Mama Went Walking		K-4	A wonderful book about good family relations. The Mother's amazing adventures are always saved by her small daughter.
Bertrand, Diane Gonzales	My Pal, Victor/Mi Amigo, Victor	*	K-4	A small boy talks about what makes Victor his best friend, and it is not until the illustration on the last page that we find out that Victor is in a wheelchair. The last line of the book is, 'But, the most important thing about my pal, Victor, is that he likes me just the way I am/ Pero lo mas importante es que yo le gusto tal y como si.'

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Blyton, Enid	Six O'Clock Tales	*	K-4	33 short stories, one of which is based on the Goha story of carrying the donkey.
Bolden, Tonya R. Gregory Christie	The Champ: The Story of Muhammad Ali		K-4	The layout and style will appeal to those who don't like reading. Ali's character and religious beliefs are well represented.
Bradford, Emma	Kat and the Emperor's Gift	*	K-4	Stardust Classics series, similar to American Girl Series: Kat is a British girl who travels back in time with her Aunt Jessie to the court of Kublai Khan and meets Marco Polo.
Brady, Irene	Doodlebug		K-4	Jennifer has always wanted a beautiful black stallion but ends up spending her money on a small, ugly pony. She cares for him and loves him even though her neighbor looks down her nose at the pony. Turns out he is a valuable Hackney Pony. Good family interaction.
Bridges, Margaret Park and Kady Macdonald Denton	If I Were Your Father	*	K-4	A little boy offers his own fantastic vision of what a father might do, and his father listens lovingly and encouragingly.
Briggs, Raymond	Jim and the Beanstalk		K-4	A humorous modern retelling of the Jack story, where Jim helps the giant.
Brown, Jeff	Flat Standley's Worldwide Adventures		K-4	Stanley is flat, only 1/2 inch thick from the time his bulletin board fell on him. He and his family go on many adventures in this funny series. His younger brother, father, and mother appreciate him as he is and are very supportive.
Brown, Marc	Arthur and the Crunch Cereal Contest		K-4	Arthur's father cooks nourishing, but awful tasting, cereal while Arthur prefers Crunch cereal. His sister helps him write a jingle for a contest, and he almost sends it in under only his name - but realizes his jealousy and corrects himself.
Bunting, Eve	The Man Who Could Call Down Owls		K-4	A fable about good and evil, in which a good man attract owls to him because of his goodness to them, and then an evil stranger tries to steal that power.
Bunting, Eve	One Green Apple	*	K-4	Farah's first day of school is difficult because she doesn't know any English and so many things are different from her Muslim home country. Some of her classmates are helpful and kind, so her day ends well.
Bunting, Eve	Someone is Hiding on Alcatraz island	*	K-4	Small for his age, 14-yr old Danny is being chased by a gang of 18 yr olds. He flees to Alcatraz Island only to find that they have followed him there. Exciting.
Burningham, John	Come Away From the Water, Shirley		K-4	While her parents relax on vacation and constantly remind her of what she can and can't do, Shirley goes adventuring at sea – in her imagination. Good, humorous parent-child interaction.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Byars, Betsy	Beans on the Roof	*	K-4	Once Anna Bean goes to the roof in order to write a poem, both of her younger siblings want to do the same, and then their mother and father join in. The book is funny and it shows a close knit family helping each other.
Byars, Betsy	The Not-Just-Anybody Family	*	K-4	From flying off the roof to breaking into jail, the Blossom kids have many adventures. Good family relations.
Cadena, Beth	Supersister		K-4	Naming herself Supersister, the young girl does everything she can think of to help her mother, including tying and untying her shoe laces. At the end, we discover that mother is too pregnant to be able to do her own shoes, and Supersister goes to bed happy, dreaming of her new baby sibling.
Catling, Patrick	The Chocolate Touch	*	K-4	Using the theme of the Midas touch, everything that touches greedy John's lips turns into chocolate, including his mother.
Caudill, Rebecca	Happy Little Family	*	K-4	A very old fashion book about growing up in the Kentucky mountains in the 1940's. Good family interaction. Bonnie, age 4 is the central character, and the stories are mostly told from her point-of-view.
Chang, Andrea and Joline McFadden	When the Bees Fly Home	*	K-4	Artistic and sensitive Jonathan often disappoints his father because he is too weak to help his father care for their bees. As their business slows down too much, his family is surprised to find that putting his little wax bees, etc. on candles makes them big sellers. The father is verbally disappointed in his son, but makes up for his words with his actions.
Chao, Ma	The Magic Ox and Other Tales of the Effendi		K-4	Effendi is the name Joha (Nasruddin Hodja) is called by the Uygur people in China in this collection are 5 folk tales. Wonderful illustrations of the Uygurs.
Cherry, Lynne	The Great Kapok Tree	*	K-4	A man comes to chop down a huge tree, but the animals who depend on the tree come whisper in his ear how important every part of the rain forest is.
Clarke, Abdassamad	The Fabulous Adventures of Nasruddin Hoja	*	K-4	A fine collection of the more famous stories of this Muslim folk character, also known as Joha, Goha, and Mullah Nasruddin.
Clements, Andrew	Ringo Saves the Day: A True Story	*	K-4	A level 1 reader, the family's cat uncovers a gas leak in their garden. Good family relationships.
Conover, Sarah and Freda Crane	Ayat Jamilah: Beautiful Signs – A Treasury of Islamic Wisdom for Children and Parents		K-4	An excellent collection of stories ideal for reading to young children and easy enough for older children to read alone. 2004 Aesop Prize (American Folklore Society) 2005 Skipping Stones Honors Award
Czernecki, Stefan	Nina's Treasures	*	K-4	A Ukrainian folk tale about Katerina and her hen, Nina, who are best friends, which explains the origin of pisanka, or egg painting. Helping friends and caring for the poor are values addressed in this book.
Davis, Patricia A.	Brian's Bird		K-4	Brian is blind. His family gives him a parakeet who he trains to speak. His 'half bad' older brother helps him catch the bird

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
				when it flies outside. Good family relations.
Demi	The Hungry Coat: A Tale from Turkey	*	K-4	ThFis is a beautifully illustrated story of the Muslim folk hero Joha-Nasruddin Hodja- Mulla Nasruddin. What is missing is the Islamic references you will find in the same story told in Ayat Jamilah: Beautiful Signs.
Demi	Rumi: Whirling Dervish	*	K-4	Demi is a master artist in the style of Persian miniatures so the illustrations are wonderful. Her description of Rumi is based on Western 'Sufi' understanding."
Denton, Terry	The School for Laughter	*	K-4	When Eddie, who was always happy and smiling, loses his smile, his parents try to help him find it.
DePaola, Tomie	Bill and Pete	*	K-4	Crocodile Bill and his friend, Pete (a toothbrush bird), have an encounter with the Bad Guy from Cairo. Bill's accomplishments make his mother proud.
Desimini, Lisa	My Beautiful Child	*	K-4	Mothers and fathers use ordinary things to show their child how big the sky is (ex: using paper airplanes made from Papa's briefcase) and how much they love him/her. Multicultural families are featured.
Devine, Barbara	Elvis the Camel	*	K-4	A true story of a young camel in the Saudi desert that is hit by a truck and nursed back to health by an American and her three children.
Diakite, Penda	I Lost My Tooth in Africa		K-4	A true story about an American girl who goes to visit her father's family in Mali, where she loses a tooth and learns about the customs of her relatives.
Diller, Harriett	Granddaddy's Highway	*	K-4	Maggie and her grandfather make a fantasy trip via tractor-trailer along US Route 30 West, all the way to the Pacific Ocean.
Dolby, Karen	Chocolate Island: an Osbourn Young Puzzle Adventure	*	K-4	These are very interactive books where every illustration contains a puzzle to solve. A brother and sister travel to Chocolate Island to help their uncle win a baking contest.
Duffy, Carol Ann	The Gift	*	K-4	A lovely story of a little girl who gives her flower necklace to an old lady who, in turn, promises her that she will get her wish to be buried in a clearing in the woods. As the little girl grows, she adds flowers to the clearing, and as an old woman dying she herself becomes the old woman granting a similar wish to a small girl in the clearing. Beautiful story of the circular nature of life.
Edwards, Becky and David Armitage	My Brother Sammy		K-4	In the first half of the book, the boy wishes his mentally retarded brother could be more like him, but in the second half, he learns to enjoy being with Sammy just the way he is. His mother is there with loving and helpful advice.
El-Moslimany, Ann P.	Zaki's Ramadhan Fast		K-4	This story glances at a day in the life of a little Muslim boy who is taking on the family tradition of fasting. His mother, father, and sister give him their support to achieve his goal of fasting for one day.
Elliott, David	Evangeline Mudd	*	K-4	A funny, fast paced adventure of an enterprising 10 yr. old.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
	and the Great Mink Escapade			Family isn't involved much, but there is a good family.
English, Karen	Nadia's Hands	*	K-4	Nadia learns to be happy with her Pakistani heritage after her hands are hennaed for a wedding.
Everitt, Betsy	Mean Soup		K-4	When Horace comes home from a bad day at school, his mother helps him get over his mean feeling in a funny, imaginative way.
Fazio, Wende	A True Book: Saudi Arabia		K-4	The geography of the country is explained very well with excellent photo support. A good balance is made between the traditional Bedouins and modern urban dwellers. A few small mistakes about Islam.
Feelings, Muriel	Jambo means hello: Swahili Alphabet Book	*	K-4	Swahili is the language developed by the interaction of Arabic speaking Muslim merchants and local African inhabitants along the east coast of Africa. Ibada means faith, and the illustration shows Muslims praying.
Fleming, Candace	The Fabled Fourth Graders of Aesop Elementary School		K-4	Very funny retelling of some famous Aesop tales featuring fourth graders - the moral is stated at the end.
Flournoy, Valerie	The Patchwork Quilt		K-4	Tanya's grandmother starts a quilt, but when she falls ill, Tanya and her mother continue until Tanya finishes it. Excellent family interaction.
Fowler, Susi Gregg	Circle of Thanks		K-4	A native Alaskan mother saves an otter pup, but "she doesn't say thank you ... but what do you expect from an otter pup"? Then the otter pup saves a raven, which in turn saves another animal, and so on until an Arctic fox saves the Alaskan human mother's son. An excellent book for discussion.
Gilani-Williams	Fawzia, Nabeel's New Pants		K-4	After buying Eid gifts for his family, Nabil buys himself a new pair of pants that are too long. This funny tale is well told, adding elements that show a close knit Muslim family.
Grahame, Kenneth	The Reluctant Dragon		K-4	This beautifully illustrated picture book about a dragon who is too lazy to fight and only wants to make up poetry is both funny and wise. The small boy who befriends him has wise parents who appreciate that he is the right one to deal with a dragon because he is the only one who has knowledge about them from reading books.
Greenfield, Eloise	Koya DeLaney and the Good Girl Blues		K-4	Koya loves to laugh and make others laugh in this humorous novel. The relationship between Koya and her sister is admirable.
Guback, Georgia	Luka's Quilt		K-4	Luka's Hawaiian grandmother makes her a quilt that she is disappointed in. Following a short period of time where each is upset with the other, Luka and her grandmother learn to appreciate each other's opinions.
Hamilton, Virginia	Zeely	*	K-4	Eleven year old Geeder thinks that Zeely must be a queen because of the calm pride in her face. Zeely is actually an immigrant from Africa who has learned to be happy with who

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
				she really is.
Heide, Florence Parry	The House of Wisdom	*	K-4	Beautiful picture book and good story, except that the Muslim boy who is interested in learning is focused only on Aristotle.
Heide, Florence Parry	Sami and the Time of the Troubles		K-4	This seems to be a picture book for younger children, but this list recommends it for ages ten and above. It takes place during the bombing of Beirut.
Heisel, Sharon	Wrapped in a Riddle	*	K-4	11-year old Miranda is staying with her grandmother for awhile. Several suspicious happenings make for a lively mystery. Her three girlfriends help her figure out who is trying to cause problems for her grandmother.
Henkes, Kevin	Sun & Spoon	*	K-4	10 year old Spoon really misses his grandmother after she dies, and needs a special something to remember her by. He takes her deck of cards only to discover that his grandfather also needs those cards. Together they solve their problem.
Herman, Gail	Slip! Slide! Skate!		K-4	A young girl thinks only about being the best ice skater, and disapproves of her teammates' playful attitudes during practice. Ultimately, she discovers that enjoying what you do is just as important as being the best. At the end she says, 'I am not the best, I think, but this is a lot more fun.', Scholastic Reader, Level 2
Hest, Amy	The Purple Coat		K-4	Gabrielle gets a new, and always blue, coat from her grandfather tailor every year, but this year she wants a purple coat. Grandfather comes up with a solution that pleases both daughter and mother.
Hoban, Russell	The Little Brute Family	*	K-4	A small, easy reader about a family of brutes who learn to be nice when a wandering good feeling comes to their house.
Hoberman, Mary Ann	And to Think That We Thought That We'd Never Be Friends	*	K-4	Starting with brother fighting sister, the refrain is "It's funny how quickly an argument ends and to think that we thought that we'd never be friends." Most of the book suggests that music can make friends of everyone.
Hoberman, Mary Ann	Fathers, Mothers, Sisters, Brothers: A collection of family poems		K-4	The author defines family as "All of your family plus you is a family," an adequate definition for young children. The poems have good rhyme and meter, and children will enjoy memorizing them as well as relating to them.
Hoberman, Mary Ann	The Llama Who Had No Pajamas	*	K-4	Not only are these poems fun to read and about lots of different animals as well as other topics, many of them also contain an easy to digest lesson. Ex: "That praying mantis over there/Is really not engaged in prayer./ That praying mantis that you see/ is really preying (with an e)"
Hoberman, Mary Ann	Whose Garden Is It?	*	K-4	This is a picture book. The gardener, animals (including the mole, snake, rabbit, snail), plants, and sun all claim that the garden is theirs because they live there and/or they have contributed something very important to make it grow. At the end, the reader is still wondering whose garden it is (making Muslim children eager to give the real answer).

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Hoberman, Mary Ann	A House is a House for Me		K-4	This beautifully illustrated book contains the familiar poem of the book's title, "A hill is a house for an ant ... and a house is a house for me!" as the child finds a house for everything. All it needs is a mention of who provides houses for all God's creations.
Hurwitz, Johanna	Ethan Out and About	*	K-4	Several first reader stories about Ethan and his cat, riding a bike, etc. His father is part of one story. There are four to six words on a page.
Hurwitz, Johanna	Fourth-Grade Fuss	*	K-4	Julio is a poor Hispanic kid but he has a supportive family and good friends who don't care that he has less material goods than they do. He's worried about the fourth grade statewide test, but learns that he'll do fine just by relaxing and doing his best.
Hurwitz, Johanna	Mighty Monty		K-4	Monty has asthma, so there is a lot he can't do. But he's a smart kid who figures out his own way of doing things. Instead of running sports, he picks karate, and when his cat-owning friend has a party, he figures out how to join the party. Good supportive family.
Hurwitz, Johanna	Nora and Mrs. Mind-Your-Own Business		K-4	When Nora's parents won't let her go trick-or-treating because it's a pagan holiday, she comes up with the idea of giving gifts to her neighbors instead of asking for candy. Good family relations.
Hurwitz, Johanna	Russell's Secret	*	K-4	Russell convinces his mother to let him stay home from nursery school to be a baby like his baby sister. His mother lets him, but treats him like a baby until finally he decides he'd rather be in school. Good family relations.
Hurwitz, Johanna	Rip-Roaring Russell	*	K-4	Russell has good parents and a baby sister. One time he wants to stay home and be a baby again, but after having to eat baby food and take a nap, he decides he'd rather go to school.
Hurwitz, Johanna and Diane Degroat	Tough-Luck Karen		K-4	13-year old Karen thinks its her bad luck when she gets bad grades, and her bad luck when her mother won't let her babysit any more, and bad luck that keeps her from finding a science project. Finally she realizes that she is responsible for all her 'bad luck.' Good family interaction.
Hutchins, Pat	The Doorbell Rang		K-4	Children of varied races learn to share cookies, and in the process learn a lesson in division. Mother and Grandmother are a vital part of the story. This is a very large book, so great for using with an entire class.
Johnson, Ann Donegan	The Value of Helping: The Story of Harriet Tubman		K-4	This is one of a series: ValueTale. Each tale is the biography of a famous person (mostly American) who demonstrated a particular value. It was published in 1979, and is worth searching for in used bookstores or online. Nicely done.
Johnson, Spencer	The Value of Sharing: The Mayo Brothers		K-4	Another book in the ValueTale series: these physician brothers and their physician father started the Mayo clinic.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Johnson-Davies, Denys	Animal Tales from the Arab World	*	K-4	Many good stories taken from famous collections like Alf Layla wa Layla, and Kalila wa Dimna.
Johnson-Davies, Denys	The Companions of the Prophet Muhammad		K-4	Well written, beautifully (and Islamicly) illustrated, and it includes the too often neglected Barakah, who raised Prophet Muhammad (pbuh) from childhood.
Johnson-Davies, Denys	Goha		K-4	27 very funny stories about the Muslim folk character Goha, otherwise known as Joha, or Mullah Nasruddin, or Nasruddin Hodja.
Johnson-Davies, Denys	Tales from Morocco	*	K-4	Very well told, and with very funny stories.
Johnson-Davies, Denys	Tales from Syria		K-4	Very well told, and with Islamic values.
Joyce, William	A Day with Wilbur Robinson		K-4	An ordinary boy goes to visit his ordinary friend Wilbur at his home. However, as the illustrations and text reveal, Wilbur does not have an ordinary family. Despite the absurdist actions of each member of the family except for Wilbur, they function together as an integrated, loving family.
Juster, Norton	The Hello, Goodbye Window	*	K-4	A little girl loves to spend her day looking through her grandparent's window. Both grandparents play games with her.
Keats, Ezra Jack	Apt. 3	*	K-4	Two young boys make friends with a blind musician who lives in the same apartment building.
Khalsa, Dayal Kaur	How Pizza Came to Queens	*	K-4	The children try to make their guest from Italy happy but don't succeed until they give her the ingredients to make pizza. Good relations between old and young.
Khan, Rukhsana	Muslim Child: Understanding Islam Through Stories and Poems		K-4	Funny and entertaining to children of all religions but especially to Muslim children, this book presents aspects of the daily lives of Muslim kids in various locales, including Canada, the U.S., Nigeria, and Pakistan. Though Khan's express purpose is to explain Islam to non-Muslim children, the most avid audience for this book may be American Muslim children excited finally to find stories with characters with whom they can relate.
Khan, Rukhsana	The Roses in My Carpets	*	K-4	The beautiful carpets that he weaves help a young boy have hope while enduring the difficult life of Afghani refugee camps.
Khan, Saniyasnain	The Prayer to the Merciful		K-4	This is a board book, but it's more for older children. It is a very good, simple tafsir of the Fatiha.
King-Smith, Dick	The Mouse Family Robinson	*	K-4	The author has many good animal stories (including pig ones). Young Beaumont Robinson (Mouse) helps his family find a place safe from the household cat. The story is true to many mouse facts "Gosh, he has 78 children", says Beaumont about an old mouse. Good family relations.
King-Smith, Dick	The School Mouse	*	K-4	Flora's family lives in the old school, but she's the only mouse interested in learning how to read. Another funny adventure.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
King-Smith, Dick	Three Terrible Trins	*	K-4	The mouse triplets (trins) get trained by their mother to be fast and work together in order to get rid of mice bullies and the household cats. Another funny adventure.
King-Smith, Dick	The Water Horse		K-4	Another great adventure, but this one is about humans and the (Loch Ness) monster that they raise from an egg packet. Kirstie and her brother are friends and allies as they deal with the problem of raising a monster who grows at least an inch every day. Their mother is not fond of a monster in her bathtub but understands her children and old father's fascination with it.
King-Smith, Dick	Hairy Hezekiah	*	K-4	Nice story with good information on Bactrian camels, which were used on the Silk Road.
Kipling, Rudyard, Illustrated by Safaya Salter	Just So Stories	*	K-4	This is a lovely edition of some of Kipling's classic "just so stories," like how elephants got their long noses. Safaya Salter is an Egyptian who uses many elements of Islamic art in her lushly drawn illustrations.
Koller, Jackie French	The Dragonling	*	K-4	An entertaining fantasy without any magic. Darek befriends an orphaned baby dragon and learns that very different creatures can learn to live cooperatively.
Kroll, Steven	The Hokey-Pokey Man		K-4	Two children enjoy getting ice cream from their friend Joe's cart. Joe's cousin is the person who has just invented the ice cream cone at the St. Louis World's Fair in 1902. The story mentions that Joe and his cousin are from Damascus, Syria; however, that they were also Muslim is not mentioned.
Kroll, Virginia L.	My Sister, Then and Now	*	K-4	Ten year old Rachael's big sister is mentally ill. Her family helps her understand that her sister is ill, and the family members help one another deal with the illness.
Krull, Kathleen	The Boy Who Invented TV		K-4	Philo Farnsworth's father shared his vision, and later when his father died, he supported his family. His reason for inventing TV was to make life better for others.
Kurtz, Jane	Pulling the Lion's Tail	*	K-4	A beautiful picture book, an Ethiopian folk tale about learning patience.
Lakin, Patricia	Dad and Me in the Morning		K-4	A deaf boy wakes his father, and they go out on the beach together to watch the sun rise.
Langston, Laura and Lindsey Gardiner	Mile-High Apple Pie		K-4	A child tells the story of her grandmother's decent into Alzheimer forgetfulness with a sweet and reassuring message.
Lawson, Robert	The Great Wheel	*	K-4	Based on a true story of the first ferris wheel, of a boy who leaves Ireland to live and work with his uncle in America and then goes on to work for Mr. Ferris.
Lewin, Ted	The Storytellers		K-4	The story of a young boy and his grandfather who carry on the tradition of storytelling in Fez, Morocco.
Locker, Thomas	Family Farm	*	K-4	An interesting story about a year on a small farm in which the mother, father, and two children have to work together to keep the farm.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
London, Jonathan	Ali, Child of the Desert		K-4	Traveling in the Sahara for the first time, Ali is separated from his father, but finds help from a shepherd until his father finds him.
Long, Melinda	How I Became a Pirate		K-4	Jeremy is happy to go off with a smiling pirate crew as long as he gets back in time for soccer practice the next day. As much fun as he has with the pirates, he misses his parents' loving attention.
MacDonald, Betty and Anne Macdonald Canham	Happy Birthday Mrs. Piggle-Wiggle		K-4	This title is actually the latest in the series of Mrs. Piggle-Wiggle books, so start with Mrs. Piggle-Wiggle, a plump woman who lives in an upside-down house and knows all kinds of clever ways to cure children of their faults. All the children love her and never mind how she gets them to correct their ways. Her methods are both clever and funny, and sometimes magical.
MacDonald, Margaret Reed and Nadia Jameel Taibah	How Many Donkeys? An Arabic Counting Tale		K-4	One of the famous Joha stories, set in Saudi Arabia. The character says 'I am a lucky man' instead of 'AlhumduLi Allah'. Good for Arabic class to teach counting 1-10 in Arabic.
Mandell, Muriel	A Donkey Reads		K-4	One of the most famous Joha stories, set in Turkey.
Marchant, Kerena	Muslim Festival Tales: Stories, poems, plays, songs		K-4	The best book I've seen on Muslim festivals, full of activities that can be done in a classroom. Note: Has two errors in it.
Martin, Bill and John Archambault	Knots on a Counting Rope		K-4	The values of family, faith, and love are found in this story of a blind Native American boy who listens to his grandfather tell the story of the boy's short life.
Mathis, Sharon Bell	The Hundred Penny Box	*	K-4	Michael and his 100 year-old great-great Aunt Dew have a loving relationship although she often mistakes Michael for his father. Michael's mother takes good care of Aunt Dew, but doesn't understand her attachment to the big, old, ugly box in which she keeps her hundred pennies, one for every year of her life. Good family interactions.
Matze, Claire Sidhom	The Stars in My Geddoh's Sky	*	K-4	A realistic story about an Egyptian grandfather (who prays) who goes to visit his grandson in America (who doesn't pray). They have a close relationship even though they live so far apart.
McCloskey, Robert	Blueberries for Sal		K-4	Sal and her mother go to one side of Blueberry Hill to pick berries, while Mother Bear and her cub do the same thing on the other side of the hill. Then the mothers and children get mixed up.
McKee, David	Who is Mrs. Green?		K-4	An amusing circular tale of cause and effect, great for classroom discussion. Jennifer's mother is cross with her, and her friend says it's because of Mrs. Green (who made Mr. Williams grumpy, who then pushed Bruce, who then ... until Jennifer's mother yelled at her).
Meiners, Cheri	Accept and Value	*	K-4	One of a series of books helping children deal with each

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
	Each Person			other. One of them is a girl wearing hijab. Only problem is that when talking about being friends, it almost always shows a boy and girl. Teaching aids given at end.
Meiners, Cheri	Talk and Work It Out	*	K-4	Same problem as the other book and no Muslim student, but good for building social skills.
Milne, A.A.	The Pooh Story Book	*	K-4	These classic stories of a stuffed bear "of very little brain" are full of enjoyable lessons about helping others, being kind, etc.
Milord, Susan	Pebble: A Story About Belonging	*	K-4	A small pebble likes everything on his beach but feels something is missing from his life. A boy comes to the beach with his parents and enjoys everything but feels he is lacking something. Then he finds the pebble and both are happy.
Milway, Katie Smith	One Hen: How One Small Loan Made a Big Difference		K-4	A fictional account of a true story about a poor boy in Ghana named Kojo who grows his own business from a microloan and helps his village - he starts by buying one hen. Eventually "This is the town that grows as Kojo sells his eggs and pays his workers." The true story is told at the end, and information is given for children who want to help by giving a loan.
Minarik, Else	No Fighting, No Biting!	*	K-4	Cousin Joan wants to read, but Rosa and Willy are making too much noise with their hitting and kicking. Joan tells them a story about two little alligators who are always fighting and biting.
Mogensen, Jan	Kakalambalala: An African Tale	*	K-4	One by one the great animals of Africa set out for a special mountaintop, only to fail due to their hurry. Finally, the turtle with his slow and steady pace is able to successfully return with the name of a magic tree. Excellent illustrations of many different African animals.
Morris, Ann	Grandma Hekmatt Remembers: An Arab-American Family Story		K-4	Many facts are learned about Egyptian Americans in this photo-picture book. The children have a good relationship with their grandparents and all the family is active in the masjid.
Mortenson, Greg and Susan L Roth	Listen to the Wind: The story of Dr. Greg & three Cups of Tea	*	K-4	A nice adaptation of the original Three cups of Tea book, aimed at young children. Each of the books – this one, one for young readers, and the original – contain much of the same material but at the same time have enjoyable differences, so it is worthwhile to read all three.
Mueller, Virginia	What is Faith?		K-4	This easy reader is published by a Christian press with no mention of Jesus. Sample page: Faith is always being God's friend and doing what He asks ... because you can trust Him.
Muten, Burleigh	Grandmothers' Stories: Wise Woman Tales from Many cultures	*	K-4	The Midwife and the Djinn are from Senegal. A Djinn comes to Old Fatu in the night, hurrying her to his home where his Djinn wife is struggling to give birth. Her gift is vast wealth, but she continues to practice midwifery despite no longer needing the income. The book comes with 2 CDs.
Nagy, Luqman	My Islamic Village: My Hausa Village	*	K-4	All the books in the "My Islamic Village" series are informative, well illustrated, and contain relevant maps. This series is sufficiently advanced for report writing in 4th – 6th grades.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Nagy, Luqman	My Islamic Village: My Moroccan Village	*	K-4	(see above)
Nagy, Luqman	My Islamic Village: My Turkish Village	*	K-4	(see above)
Nagy, Luqman	My Islamic Village: My Yemeni Village	*	K-4	(see above)
Naylor, Phyllis Reynolds	Maudie in the Middle	*	K-4	Maudie is the middle of seven children and she feels like her mother never spends enough time with only her. Maudie has all the feelings of the middle child who thinks both her older and younger siblings have it made, while she gets the worst of everything. However, after various mishaps, her responsible help results in Maudie knowing her own special place in her family.
Nelson, Micheaux	Bad News for Outlaws		K-4	Bass Reeves, Deputy U.S. Marshal in 1875, was a crack shot and a quick draw, but he chose to be a lawman because he had a strong sense of right and wrong.
Nikly, Michelle Illustrated by Jean Claverie	The Perfume of Memory	*	K-4	A tale of courage and character that shows the power of a young girl who works hard and does what is right. Beautiful "Arab" illustrations.
Nivola, Claire	Planting the Trees of Kenya: The Story of Wangari Maathai	*	K-4	This is the true story of a Kenyan woman who founded the Green Belt Movement in her country. Most of the women in the illustrations wear Islamic dress and hijab, although no mention is made of Islam in the text. "When we see that we are part of the problem," she tells the women, "We can become part of the solution."
Numeroff, Laura	Would I Trade My Parents?		K-4	A little boy wishes his parents would let him do things his friends' parents allow, but then reminds himself of how special his parents are and what he likes to do with them.
Osborne, Mary Pope	Magic Tree House series		K-4	The series contains 22 books that are easy to read, engaging, and informative and cover different geographical locations and historical areas.
Osborne, Mary Pope	Season of the Sandstorms: #34 of The Magic Tree House Series		K-4	Children love all of this adventure series which takes a brother and sister to different important historical events. This one is particularly good for Muslims as the children end up taking a treasure (which turns out to be a book) to the House of Wisdom during the Golden Age of Baghdad 1200 years ago.
Osborne, Will and Mary Pope	Magic Tree House Research Guide		K-4	Written for the same age readers and are nonfiction companions to some of the books.
Osteen, Victoria	Gifts from the Heart		K-4	2 children show other children how to use 'the talents God gave you.'
Parish, Peggy	Amelia Bedelia		K-4	Amelia Bedelia is an immigrant housekeeper who has many

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
	(series)			very funny encounters with the English language. Readers laugh with her, not at her, because she is warm and caring and is always looking out for the needs of others.
Park, Barbara	Junie B. Jones and the Stupid Smelly Bus And other titles in the Junie B. Jones series	*	K-4	Very funny books for young readers. Although they are not about her family, Junie's mother and father are present when needed.
Parker, David	I Accept You as You Are!	*	K-4	Small picture book showing a school with lots of different kids, including handicapped child, a boy with turban, etc.
Passen, Lisa	Uncle's New Suit: (A Sort of True Story)		K-4	A great, humorous story about a very large family (lots of aunts and uncles) who are excited about the relative who gets a job in an office – one that requires a suit. Although he doesn't have the money to buy one, his family rushes him to the store and while he is trying a suit on, they come up with a plan to buy him the suit without embarrassing him.
Paterson, Katherine	The Smallest Cow in the World	*	K-4	An easy to read story about Marvin who misses the family's mean cow when it is sold. His family is loving and helpful as he copes by imagining a pet cow that can fit into his hand.
Plourde, Lynn	Field Trip Day		K-4	A funny story about a class field trip to an organic farm. Good adult-child interaction and five different ways of counting 22 (kids).,p.b.
Radwan, Hassan Illustrated by M. Ishaq	Short Islamic Plays for Children (2 volumes)		K-4	Engaging small plays suitable for younger children in an Islamic school to perform.
Ray, Mary Lyn	Basket Moon		K-4	An 8-yr old country boy whose father makes baskets has to deal with taunts about his family when he goes to town for the first time. Good parental involvement.
Rumford, James	Silent Music: A Story of Baghdad		K-4	This beautifully illustrated picture book tells of a boy's love of Arabic calligraphy as the letters glide and sweep, leap and dance to the silent music in his head. His hero is Yakut, a calligrapher who was living in Baghdad in 1258 when the Mongols attacked.
Rumford, James	Traveling Man: The Journey of Ibn Battuta		K-4	The story of this famous traveler is woven into the beautiful illustrations, using a 'ribbon' to move the story from place to place. A picture book that is appealing to all ages.
Rumford, James	Calabash Cat and his amazing journey	*	K-4	Another wonderful book by the author of Traveling Man: The Story of Ibn Battuta 1325-1354. The cat in the title is from Chad, and this story is of how "One day he set off down the road to see where the world ended." At the end of the road, he meets a calabash camel who carries him across the desert and then a horse, a tiger, a whale, and an eagle who carry him back home.
Rylant, Cynthia	Missing May	*	K-4	Summer misses her Aunt May, with whom she's lived most of her life, and tries to help her Uncle Ob who is even more devastated by his wife's death. The family lived in a run down trailer in the Appalachian hills, which seems a wonderful place to Summer because of the love she finds from her kin.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Rylant, Cynthia	The Relatives Came		K-4	Mayhem and glee result when distant relatives show up for a long visit. Even the smallest impact is noted, as the child notes that while everyone is sleeping, he can hear, "... all that new breathing."
Rylant, Cynthia	When I Was Young in the Mountains		K-4	Reminiscences of growing up with grandparents in rural Appalachia, which evokes the love of a way of life and of a family.
Shepard, Aaron	The Gifts of Wali Dad: A Tale of India and Pakistan	*	K-4	A simple grass-cutter is content with the little he has and decides to give away the little he has saved to the noblest lady in the land. She in turn gives him a larger gift, which he then wants to give to someone else. This is a funny story, and teaches that you do not have to be rich to be happy.
Silver, Maggie	Who Lives Here?	*	K-4	Beautiful illustrations. Creatures as diverse as hummingbirds, gorillas, and harvest mice are hiding in their natural habitats.
Silver, Maggie	Who's at Home?	*	K-4	As beautiful as Who Lives Here, this book features puffins, tent bats, otters, tigers, and an octopus.
Smith, Chris	One City, Two Brothers		K-4	Based on a folk tale about Prophet Sulaiman, this book is about 2 brothers who try to help each other by secretly transferring some of his harvest to his brother - and of course they both end up with their original amount.
Smith, David	If the World Were a Village	*	K-4	A village of 100 people represents the world: only 24 have enough to eat
Sobol, Donald	Encyclopedia Brown: Boy Detective [book 1]	*	K-4	Leroy Brown has an encyclopedic brain for trivia that helps him solve mysteries and crimes. All the clues he uses to help his neighbors and the police chief (his father) are given in the book, so readers can also try to solve the mysteries.
Stamaty, Mark Alan	Alia's Mission: Saving the Books of Iraq		K-4	The true story of a librarian who saved 30,000 books by removing them from the library in Basra, days before the library was burned to the ground during the fighting. It is told in comic book format, but with more information than Jeanette Winter's book.
Steig, William	Doctor De Soto	*	K-4	Dr. De Soto is a dentist and a mouse who, with the aid of his wife, treats animals smaller and larger than himself. They cleverly figure out how to help a suffering fox without being eaten in return.
Steig, William	Sylvester and the Magic Pebble	*	K-4	Sylvester is a donkey who wishes he were a rock, while holding a magic pebble. For the year he remains a rock, he misses his family, and they hunt and hunt for him, until finally one day they find the pebble and unwittingly help him return to being a donkey.
Swanberg, Jan and Dolores Johnson	The Best Grandma Ever	*	K-4	#23 of the Hooked on Phonics small books, the little girl enjoys visiting her grandmother. Illustrations include both parents and grandparents.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Thompson, Colin	How to Live Forever		K-4	The illustrations are the story. There is a library with every book ever written. At night the shelves come to life with wit, wisdom and boundless imagination. A young boy looks for a book on how to live forever, but learns that it is better to live normally.
Tillage, Leon Walter	Leon's Story		K-4	This is an autobiography suitable for third graders, told in simple style by a man who grew up in a very segregated time in the South. We feel what it was like to not be allowed in certain places, to be beaten if you drank from the 'whites only' water fountain.
Wang, Rosalind C.	The Fourth Question: A Chinese Tale	*	K-4	A dutiful son goes off to visit a wise man to find out how to take care of his mother. Along the way, he meets three others who also have questions. In deciding to fulfill his promise to them, he gets their questions answered but not his.
Weber, Valerie	I Come from Afghanistan		K-4	A small 24 page book about an Afghani girl growing up in America and visiting her extended family in Afghanistan.
Wells, Rosemary	Hazel's Amazing Mother		K-4	When Hazel gets bullied, her mother literally flies off to save her (courtesy of a very strong wind). "How did you do it?" asks Hazel. "It must have been the power of love," answers her mother.
Wells, Rosemary	Lincoln and His Boys		K-4	A well told story based on letters and facts known about Abraham Lincoln and his two sons."
Wells, Rosemary	Shy Charles	*	K-4	Charles' mother and father are frustrated because Charles is too shy to even say 'hello' or 'thank you,' but when his babysitter gets hurt, he says all the right things. Good family interaction. Picture book.
Williams, Karen Lynn and Khadra Mohammad	Four Feet, Two Sandals		K-4	In sorting through donated shoes, each of two Afghani girls in a refugee camp find one of a pair of sandals. Their decision to share the shoes is the beginning of a wonderful friendship.
Williams, Karen Lynn and Khadra Mohammed	My Name is Sangoel		K-4	Sangoel is a refugee from Sudan. Everything is very strange to him, and no one pronounces his name correctly until he comes up with a clever way to tell them how. Good family relations.
Willis, Jeanne	Susan Laughs	*	K-4	Susan has lots of fun, laughing, singing, swimming, etc. It's only in the last illustration that we see that she uses a wheelchair. Good parents.
Winter, Jeanette	The Librarian of Basra: A True Story from Iraq		K-4	A picture book that tells the story of the Muslim librarian who saved most of the books in the Basra library.
Wolf, Bernard	Coming to America: A Muslim Family's Story	*	K-4	The true story of an Egyptian family's struggle, and family cohesion in immigrating to the U.S. Note: There are a few minor errors about Islam.
Wood, Douglas	Aunt Mary's Rose		K-4	A rose bush planted by the grandfather is tended to by succeeding generations, which helps link them all together.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Wood, Douglas	What Moms Can't Do		K-4	From the author of What Dads Can't Do , this sweet book also uses a dinosaur family to illustrate the funny things that moms can't do ("they can't sit for very long without someone on their lap").
Yaccarino, Dan	Every Friday	*	K-4	A father takes his young son to breakfast every Friday morning. An illustration shows that the family includes mother and a baby.
Yolen, Jane	Off We Go!	*	K-4	All the animals love to go to Grandmother's house "Wherever it is found – in hole, in tree, or underground, in web or bog or in a nest- why Grandma's house is always best." Lovely water color illustrations in this picture book.
Yolen, Jane	The Girl Who Cried Flowers and Other Tales	*	K-4	Five tales each with an underlying message: a child's love conquers fear; the acceptance of the patterns of life, including death; the madness of pride; the power of kindness.
Yolen, Jane	Mightier than the Sword: World Folktales for Strong Boys	*	K-4	Folk tales from around the world. In the story set in Afghanistan, one brother is cheated out of his wages, and the other brother tricks their employer to get everyone their fair wages. In the British story, a school boy outsmarts the devil.
Zeman, Ludmila	Sindbad: From the Tales of the Thousand and One Nights	*	K-4	Absolutely beautiful illustrations in this picture book, with the story slightly adapted. The only problem with the book is that all references to Allah are taken out. It is fate that has helped him, and the lesson he learns is that there is "no greater reward than love."
Zhang, Song Nan	The Children of China: An Artist's Journey	*	K-4	Included in this beautiful book are children from the Muslim peoples of China, the Hui, Kazakhs and Tajiks. Interesting information about each group of people is also included.

This section contains 165 book titles for reading levels of 4-6.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Aamundson, Nina Ring	Two Short and One Long		4-6	The friendship of two Norwegian boys is threatened when one befriends a new boy, an Afghan refugee. Good family ties; antiracist message.
Aiken, Joan	Arabel and Mortimer	*	4-6	This is one of several books about a good little girl named Arabel and her pet raven Mortimer, who is not good. Among other bad habits, he eats just about everything, including tape recorders, door knobs, etc. The family is good, and the stories are silly and fun to read.
Alcott, Louisa May	Little Women	*	4-6	The first of several books about the March family, in particular the daughter, Jo, who longs to become a writer. An American classic about a loving family going through some hard times.
Alexander, Lloyd	The Book of Three (Book one of the Chronicles of		4-6	Fantasy. Two young people, one an assistant pig-keeper and the other a princess, are off to fight evil powers that want to take over the world, assisted by a dwarf, a bard, and a twiggy

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
	Prydain)			creature named Gurgi.
Alexander, Lloyd	The Iron Ring	*	4-6	This fantasy, based on (India) Indian myths and legends, tells of Tamar, a young king full of honor and pride, who sets off on a journey to satisfy a debt. Along the way he is joined by various talking animals and a very smart but poor young woman. A romance is there, but within proper boundaries.
Alexander, Lloyd	The Marvelous Misadventures of Sebastian	*	4-6	Young apprenticed fiddler Sebastian loses his job and is on his own to survive however he can in an 18th century setting. Along the way, he becomes a traveling partner with a princess in disguise. Of course they fall in love, but he refuses to marry her until he can come to her as a master violinist. And as for her, she learns how to be a real person and a princess who can help her people.
Alexander, Lloyd	The Wizard in the Tree	*	4-6	Although it does not meet the usual criteria to be on this list, the wizard's refusal to grant wishes because humans ask for unimportant things like riches and misuse whatever they have, makes this a very wise book. It is the heroine's good sense, practicality, loyalty, and bravery that saves the wizard's life and finds the real villain.
Alexander, Lloyd	The Drackenberg Adventure	*	4-6	Part of The Vesper Holly Adventures series, this story has Vesper in a tiny middle European country where she rescues an unknown Da Vinci masterpiece.
Alexander, Lloyd	The Town Cats and Other Tales	*	4-6	Very entertaining tales of cats that are much wiser and more clever than humans.
Anno, Mitsumasa	Anno's Twice Told Tale: The Fisherman and His Wife & The Four Clever Brothers by the Brothers Grimm & Mr. Fox	*	4-6	The top two-thirds of each page is part of a Brothers Grimm tale with illustration. The bottom of the pages is the story of Mr. Fox who is pretending to read the tale to his son because he is ashamed that he doesn't know how to read. The second Grimm tale ends with the four virtuous brothers going back home to live with their father "in great happiness."
Aqviar, Nadia	The Lost Island of Tamarind		4-6	13-yr old Maya, her younger brother, and 8-month old sister are adrift on the ocean when her parents fall overboard. They end up in a fantastical, frightening island cut off from the outside world.
Avi	Windcatcher	*	4-6	Eleven year old Tony spends the summer with his grandmother by the sea and learns to sail a boat.
Babbitt, Natalie	Goody Hall	*	4-6	A kind of Gothic mystery story, the new tutor helps his student discover what happened to his father. The boy's parents are misguided but loving.
Babbitt, Natalie	The Search for Delicious		4-6	Gaylen, the 12 year old King's messenger, is conducting a poll among every inhabitant of the land. The silly argument over what food is most delicious is a witty telling of how mankind is eternally inclined to go to war.
Banks, Lynne Reid	The Indian in the Cupboard	*	4-6	Omri gets a three inch high plastic Indian as a birthday gift from his friend, but when he puts it into an old cupboard that he has also received as a gift, the Indian becomes alive – a three inch human. OK family interaction. There are 3 books in this series.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Barnham, Henry	Tales of Nasreddin		4-6	Originally published in 1923, the introduction is very disparaging of Turks and the Ottoman world, but the 180 tales are genuine Nasreddin.
Barr, Gary	The History and Activities of the Islamic Empire		4-6	Although there are some errors, this short, mostly accurate history includes some excellent points that Muslims fail to mention. The activities are beyond the usual, including doing metal work using foil pans.
Batt, Tanya	The Fabrics of Fairy Tale: stories spun from far and wide	*	4-6	3 of the 7 stories are from Muslim areas. Each story features a different fabric, from wool to flax. Each story is preceded by information about the fabric featured in the story. Includes 2 CDs.
Birney, Betty G.	The Seven Wonders of Sassafras Springs		4-6	Eben wishes he could see the seven wonders of the world, but his father challenges him to find seven wonders in his own small town. As he searches for them, he gets to know his family, friends, and neighbors as they share with him their own personal wonder - anything from a singing saw to a table floating in the cemetery.
Boston, L.M.	The Stones of Green Knowe	*	4-6	The children who have lived in the house Green Knowe are 'others' to the child who is presently living there. This last book is about the first boy who lived in it, and by the end of the book, he has met all the other children. Each child has his/her own story plus interaction with the 'others.' All the books are recommended except Treasure of Green Knowe, which has a racist tint to its treatment of a black boy who is servant to the blind girl living there. The only magic in the stories is the stone chairs that transport them through time.
Boyce, Frank Cottrell	Cosmic	*	4-6	Liam is a very tall 12-yr old who passes as a adult. He impersonates a father in order to go on a new computer ride, which accidentally flies off to the moon. Fun to read, especially for boys, with a real lesson in the value of fathers.
Brink, Carol Ryrie	Caddie Woodlawn		4-6	An American classic based on the true childhood of the author's grandmother, Caddie, who grew up as an adventurous tomboy in the 1860s in western Wisconsin.
Bryson, Bill	A Really Short History of Nearly Everything	*	4-6	A science book that is interesting and funny. Author identifies Darwin's theory as a theory, but traces apes to humans.
Bunting, Eve	Someone is Hiding on Alcatraz Island	*	4-6	Small for his age, 14-yr old Danny is being chased by a gang of 18-yr olds. He flees to Alcatraz Island only to find that they have followed him there. Exciting!
Burnett, Frances Hodgson	A Little Princess	*	4-6	This is the classic riches-to-rags-to-riches story of a wealthy pampered girl who is mistreated when she descends into poverty after her father dies. Her strong character enables her to deal honorably with the scorn and mistreatment of others.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Byars, Betsy	Summer of the Swans		4-6	Except for the dysfunctional father and new boyfriend added at the end, this is a wonderful story about the love and responsibility shown by a teen toward her mentally retarded brother, who wanders off in search of the swans at a nearby pond, only to become totally lost and afraid.
Calder, Alexander	Selected Fables of Jean de la Fontaine	*	4-6	Many/most of these fables are Aesop tales and, therefore, present positive morals. The fables are put in verse, making them highly enjoyable poems to read and discuss.
Carmi, Daniella	Samir and Yonatan	*	4-6	Palestinian Samir is in a Jewish hospital to get his knee repaired. The other four children in the room are Jews. He gradually gets to know and sympathize with them as they learn about him also. The Israeli Jewish author makes some minor mistakes about Muslims, but in general, it is very good.
Cheaney, J.B.	The Middle of Somewhere		4-6	Ronnie and her younger hyperactive brother go on the road with her cantankerous grandfather. She works hard to put a positive spin on everything that comes her way. She loves her brother and accepts the responsibility of taking care of him, while experiencing a normal frustration at thime.
Chocolate, Debbi	NEATE to the Rescue!	*	4-6	Naimah's mother is running for reelection to the city council. She and her four friends (2 male, 2 female) help out, sometime successfully, sometimes disastrously.
Cleary, Beverly	Ellen Tebbits		4-6	Third grade Ellen is worried because she doesn't have a best friend, but then Austine moves to town and helps her deal with that teasing, mischief making Otis who is also in her class. The girls have very different types of mothers, but both have traits that make them good mothers.
Cleary, Beverly	Emily's Runaway Imagination		4-6	Emily lives on a farm in the early 1920s. The book centers on her trying to get a library for her small town in Oregon. Children will enjoy the funny misadventures Emily gets into as she waits for the books to arrive for the new library.
Cleary, Beverly	Otis Spofford	*	4-6	Otis likes to play practical jokes on his schoolmates, but doesn't like it when they turn the tables and play tricks on him.
Clements, Andrew	The Jacket		4-6	When a white boy accuses an African American boy of stealing his jacket, he realizes he is prejudiced. He and his mother have some prejudice, and his father is worse. He makes himself apologize and learns that he had many misconceptions he needs to correct. Good family relations in both boys' homes.
Clements, Andrew	The Janitor's Boy		4-6	Fifth grader Jack is embarrassed when he has to attend the school where his father is a janitor. His parents are very wise when they learn how embarrassed he is. His father explains how he did not want to be just out for money as his father was, and what led him to become a janitor. Jack ends up proud to have this man as his father.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Clements, Andrew	The Landry News	*	4-6	Fifth grader Cara Landry writes her own newspaper and learns that a good journalist tempers truth with mercy. Excellent, except focus is on kids with divorced parents.
Clements, Andrew	No Talking		4-6	The fifth grade boys and girls are having a contest to see which group can go the longest without saying anything (exception – 3 words to an adult). This funny book is about language and thoughts, the power of words.
Clements, Andrew	A Week in the Woods	*	4-6	Another fifth grade boy comes from an extremely wealthy family. He has to transfer from an elite private school to a rural public school. His parents are loving but too involved in far flung businesses. The people at his new school assume he is a stuck up rich kid, but he is actually a very nice kid, which everyone learns by the end of the book.
Clements, Andrew	Room One: A Mystery or Two		4-6	Ted is a sixth grader in a small town who loves to read mysteries and wants to solve the mystery of the girl's face in the abandoned house. He's a nice kid in a good family who likes to help others and doesn't mind working on the family farm. The town welcomes the opportunity to help the widow of a soldier killed in Iraq.
Clements, Andrew	Extra Credit		4-6	A 6th grade girl writes a pen pal letter to a village school in Afghanistan. The best English student there happens to be a boy. The legitimate concern of the village elders over the problems of a boy this age becoming the pen pal of a girl is thoughtful written, as is the budding romantic feelings when they do write and then have to break off their communication. Very well done.
Clifford, Eth	Will Somebody Please Marry My Sister	*	4-6	In 1925 Brooklyn, Abel wants his older sister to get married so that he can have a room of his own. His immigrant family has its own rules from 'back home' about the older sister having to marry first and that prospective spouses come to dinner in order in order to meet the girl. Good family relations. The middle sister has a boyfriend, but they spend most of their time together inside the family home.
Clifton, Lucille	My Friend Jacob		4-6	8-yr old Sam's friend Jacob is 16 and mentally retarded. The story focuses on Jacob's particular talents and how Sam tries to teach Jacob some practical life skills. The mothers of the two boys are involved in their lives.
Collins, Suzanne	Gregor the Overlander (Book 1) and The Underland Chronicles		4-6	This is an excellent series about 11-yr old Gregor who loves his 2-yr old sister and volunteers to spend his summer taking care of her when his father disappears and his mother has to work to support them. Gregor follows his little sister down a drain pipe into the underland where they encounter gigantic cockroaches and rats. The family interaction is especially good as they care for and help one another. Gregor willingly looks after his little sister, and she acts like a real 2-yr old!

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Compestine, Ying Chang	Revolution Is Not a Dinner Party		4-6	Set in Mao's China in 1972, this a griping story about a doctor's family and how 9-yr old Ling deals with China's cultural revolution when her family and friends have their lives torn apart as some disappear forever and others are 're-educated'.
Conrad, Pam	My Daniel		4-6	A grandmother tells her grandchildren about her life with her brother, Daniel, growing up in Nebraska and finding dinosaur bones.
Cooper, Susan	Over Sea, Under Stone	*	4-6	The first book in the Dark Is Risingseries is based on the legend of King Arthur. The three siblings help their family friend, Uncle Merriman Lyon (i.e. Merlion...Merlin), fight the evil which is after Arthur's chalice.
Corcoran, Barbara	The Faraway Island	*	4-6	Shy 12-yr old Lynn gets to spend a year with her beloved grandmother, but she dreads having to go to a new school. She overcomes her shyness to help her grandma.
Corder, Zizou	Lionboy		4-6	This is another excellent series. Charlie, whose mother is white and whose father is black, can communicate with cats. Talking to the local alley cats helps him track his parents who have been kidnapped. Along the way he befriends some circus lions who agree to help him if he will help them get back to Africa. His parents, who know that he will be trying to find them, try to escape so they can find him. This is book 1 of a trilogy, and you will want all three before you start the first.
Curry, Jane L.	The Great Smith House Hustle	*	4-6	A good mystery with good family relations. The Smith children discover something sinister and help save their grandmother's house from being sold.
Curtis, Christopher	Elijah of Buxton		4-6	11-yr old Elijah lives in Buxton, Canada, a town set up for freed and run-away slaves. Good family and community interaction, but dialect may be hard for some readers.
D'Adamo, Francesco	Iqbal	*	4-6	This is a fictional account of the real Iqbal Masih who was the courageous, abused child carpet weaver. He was able to challenge the inhuman treatment of child carpet weavers in Pakistan and was killed by the 'masters' when he was 13.
DeJong, Meindert	Shadrach	*	4-6	The somewhat slow moving story of a young Dutch boy who thinks his pet bunny, Shadrach, is a miracle. Told from his thoughtful 5-year old point of view, with love and help from his parents and grandparents and even occasionally from his older brother.
Doherty, Gillian and Anna Claybourne	The Usborne Book of Peoples of the World	*	4-6	The sections on Africa, The Middle East, and Asia all give good coverage of Muslim areas.
Dokey, Cameron	The World Above		4-6	This author has retold many fairy tales. This is Jack & the

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
				Beanstalk. Jack is a dreamer, and his sister Gen is thoughtful and practical. They only steal back what was stolen from their family. Good family relations.
Dokey, Cameron	Beauty Sleeps: A Retelling of 'Sleeping Beauty' (Once Upon a Time)	*	4-6	The Sleeping Beauty's true love turns out to be her cousin that she has known since birth.
Dowd, Siobhan	The London Eye Mystery		4-6	Ted's autism makes him extremely rational, and it is his thought process that solves the mystery of his cousin who gets on a ferris wheel type ride but doesn't get off.
Du Prau, Jeanne	The City of Ember. Series of 3 books	*	4-6	11-yr. old girl and boy are friends and thoughtful heroes. They are part of a generation of people born and raised in an underground city, designed to save humanity from extinction after a world holocaust. After they are able to lead their people above ground, they must learn how to live on the earth, and the village that welcomes them has to learn how to share food and knowledge with a group larger than themselves. A very thoughtful series about doing what's right even when it's hard.
Eckert, Allan W.	Hawk's Hill and Return to Hawk's Hill	*	4-6	Six year old Ben is quiet among people, but has a way with animals, including the ability to mimic their sounds exactly. In the first book, Ben takes refuge with a wild badger, and in the second book he is rescued by and lives for a while with a tribe of Cree Indians.
Edwards, Julie Andrew	Dragon, Hound of Honor	*	4-6	Based on an old French legend, the wolfhound Dragon helps identify the murderer of his master.
Ellis, Deborah	The Breadwinner	*	4-6	An eleven-year old girl is forced to cut her hair and pretend to be a boy in order to help the rest of her family survive in Taliban-controlled Afghanistan. The book is exciting and well written. The only problem is that there is no mention of Allah or Islam except for one short sentence. The book is not Islam bashing, but it is obviously not written by a Muslim.
Ellis, Deborah	Mud City	*	4-6	The third book of the Breadwinner trilogy about an Afghani girl who has fled her country and now leaves the refugee camp to try to reach Paris on her own. She fails but finds she can help other refugees in the camp.
Ellis, Deborah	Parvana's Journey	*	4-6	The sequel to The Breadwinner.
Estes, Eleanor	The Moffats	*	4-6	An old American classic, about the four children, aged five, nine, twelve, and fifteen, in the Moffat family. Good family relations. The only problem is the importance of Christmas and Halloween.
Farley, Walter	The Black Stallion	*	4-6	The young horse is captured and put on a boat headed for the West. When the boat capsizes, he and a youth survive and learn to trust each other.
Farley, Walter and	The Young Black	*	4-6	"The most famous fictional horse of the century" escapes a

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Steven Farley	Stallion: A Wild and Untameable Spirit!			fierce band of raiders and begins a dangerous journey in Arabia that tests his strength, speed, and will to survive. A very exciting story in an extensive series about the Black Stallion.
Farmer, Nancy	The Ear, the Eye and the Arm: a 21st Century Adventure		4-6	Three children living in Zimbabwe in the future are kidnapped. They escape to a walled area where the people live according to old African ways. Very exciting.
Forbes, Esther	Johnny Tremain		4-6	Engaging historical fiction about a boy involved in the Boston Tea Party and events leading to the American Revolution. Although Johnny is an orphan, good family interactions surround him. A must read for American history classes.
Freeman Martha	Fourth Grade Weirdo	*	4-6	Dexter likes to be as organized and methodical as his father, but it makes him a 'weirdo' among his classmates. His parents are supportive and help him relax his unforgiving standards for himself. The story is funny, and at the end he becomes a hero and a 'regular kid' in the classroom.
Funke, Cornelia	Igraine the Brave	*	4-6	12-yr old Igraine wants to be a knight while her brother wants to be a good magician like their parents. Her parents are supportive and make her a magical suit of armor, but they argue in vain to keep her safely in the castle. She decides it is up to her to save them all from the greedy baron.
Gates, Doris	Blue Willow		4-6	An American classic. Janey's father is a migrant worker in the cotton fields, and they are very poor. She yearns for a real house where they can stay as long as they want to. Her step-mother and father love, trust, and help each other and Janey deal bravely with whatever happens.
George, Jean Craighead	Charlie's Raven	*	4-6	Charlie raises a baby raven and learns to understand raven talk as well as raven ways. Good story nicely woven with facts about ravens.
Giff, Patricia Reilly	Storyteller		4-6	While staying with her aunt, Elizabeth discovers Zee, a great gran something of hers, a girl who lived during the American Revolution. The story alternates between the story of one, then the other girl. Each girl discovers her inner strength and the importance of her family.
Gilchrist, Cherry	Stories from The Silk Road	*	4-6	A fictitious trip along the Silk Road gives a lot of true information about the geography and cultures along its way. Folk tales from the major areas include stories from predominately Muslim areas.
Goudge, Elizabeth	The Little White Horse	*	4-6	This is an old-fashion story about an orphan who goes to live with her uncle in the ancestral home. Her uncle is good and kind, but his pride has led him to an unhappy bachelor's life. Because she is good and kind, she is able to win over all the bad people and give sad stories happy endings.
Gourlay, Candy	Tall Story	*	4-6	Andi's long lost half brother arrives from the Philippines, and he is 8 feet tall! Andi loves to play basketball, and she's very good - but she's short and a girl. Good family relations but a bit too much magical realism, although Andi's not sure herself if events are magic or coincidence.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Grace, Catherine O'Neill and Margaret M. Buchac	1621: A New Look at Thanksgiving		4-6	Written in collaboration with the Plimoth Plantation, this is a historical look at the American settlers' first harvest. The authors use original letters and historical artifacts from both the English settlers and the Wampanoag tribe that befriended them. Includes lots of great photos from National Geographic photographers.
Graff, Nancy	Taking Wing		4-6	13 Gus is staying with his grandparents while his father is soldiering and his mother is in a convalescent hospital. He hatches some duck eggs and becomes their nursemaid. His interaction with a poor French Canadian family points out the prejudice these people faced in Vermont in the 1940s. Good family interaction.
Graham, Harriet	A Boy and His Bear	*	4-6	In this historical novel, set in Elizabethan England, a young boy rescues a bear cub from being used in bear vs vicious dog pack entertainment. He is accused of witchcraft because animals respond to him.
Gutman, Dan	The Genius Files: Mission Unstoppable	*	4-6	Genius twins Coke and Pepsi McDonald take a road trip with their parents to visit quirky 'wonders' while trying to avoid some murderous lunatics. Good family relations.
Haig, Matt	Samuel Blink and the Forbidden Forest	*	4-6	Samuel and his younger, traumatized sister go to live with their aunt in Norway, next to a forest filled with awful creatures. An exciting, satisfyingly scary adventure with good sibling relations.
Hale, Lucretia P.	The Peterkin Papers	*	4-6	Written in the late 1800s, it tells of the antics of the most hopelessly bumbling of respectable American families. The family is composed of good natured, helpful incompetents who cannot even figure out that if Mother spoiled her cup of tea by putting salt in it, the solution is to pour a new cup of tea.
Heide, Florence Parry	Sami and the Time of the Troubles	*	4-6	This is written as a picture book, but the subject matter makes it more appropriate for this age. Sami lives in his basement during the bombing of Beirut.
Henry, Marguerite	San Domingo: The Medicine Hat Stallion	*	4-6	A great story for lovers of horse stories. The boy's father is cold, but the son grows to understand the reason why. The boy joins the newly formed Pony Express and helps to keep the state of California in the Union.
Holt, Kimberly Willis	Dancing in the Cadillac Light	*	4-6	In a small town in Texas during the summer of 1968, Jaynell and her sister cope with their grandmother's death and their possibly senile grandfather moving in with their family. The sisters learn to not look down on the very poor because their grandfather was himself a 'poor white' earlier in his life.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Hood, Ann	The Treasure Chest: Angel of the Battlefield	*	4-6	Similar to the Magic Treehouse series, a brother and sister are transported to times and places in the past where they interact with famous people. In this book they meet Clara Barton.
Hoose, Phillip	Claudette Colvin: Twice Toward Justice		4-6	Well documented true story of the teen who is the first to object to sitting in the back of a bus, and takes her case to court.
Howe, Peter	Warriors of the Black Shroud	*	4-6	Exciting fantasy of light (goodness) versus dark (evil) starring an 11 year old hero with no self confidence who prefers to remain unnoticed but is called upon to lead the fight. A feisty girl appoints herself as the hero's friend.
Howell, Troy	The Dragon of Cripple Creek		4-6	Ancient dragon versus a maddening crowd of gold seekers - and Kat is in the middle, trying to save the dragon's life. Exciting, and good family relations
Hutchinson, Uthman	Invincible Abdullah 4: The Wilderness Survival		4-6	Abdullah and two friends crash their plane in the wilderness and have to survive with minimal tools.
Hutchinson, Uthman and Aziza Hutchinson	Invincible Abdullah 1: The Deadly Mountain Revenge		4-6	An exciting adventure story, British born Abdullah visits his cousins in northern Pakistan and gets involved with drug dealers and glaciers. This book also has a workbook for use in English class.
Hutchinson, Uthman and Aziza Hutchinson	Invincible Abdullah 2: The Car Theft Kidnapping		4-6	Abdullah has this adventure in England. Also has a workbook.
Hutchinson, Uthman and Aziza Hutchinson	Invincible Abdullah 3: The Mystery of the Missing Pearls		4-6	Abdullah goes to visit friends in Malaysia for this adventure. Also has a workbook.
Ibbotson, Eva	The Secret of Platform 13	*	4-6	Ogres, hags, wizards, and humans populate this fantasy about the rescue of the prince of the magical kingdom who has been kidnapped by humans in our world. The king, queen, and prince are as good and kind as rulers ought to be.
Johnson, Peter	The Amazing Adventures of John Smith Jr., AKA Houdini	*	4-6	Written in first person, a boy nicknamed 'Houdini' chronicles his life as he and his friends start a leaf-raking business and get even with the neighborhood bully. He also writes a guide to writing a book, and he discovers that writing lets him get to know his school mates in completely new ways. Good family interaction. Includes a small biography of the real Harry Houdini.
Juster, Norton	The Phantom Tollbooth		4-6	A very bored Milo enters a world where words and numbers are supremely and wittily important. He is accompanied by his watchdog (who has a clock in his stomach). An excellent book for the teacher to read aloud, it is both funny and instructive in its use of puns and other figures of speech.
Kehret, Peg	Small Steps: The Year I Got Polio		4-6	The true story of a woman who had polio when she was young, describing the fear, the pain, and the sorrow when others in the same situation died from it. She herself fully recovered. Very supportive family.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Kerrin, Jessica Scott	Lower the Trap: The Lobster Chronicles 1	*	4-6	Graeme lives in a small fishing/lobster community and wants to be a marine biologist when he grows up. His dad catches a giant lobster, and the dilemma is whether to throw it back in or sell it to pay for a trip to meet a marine biologist.
King-Smith, Dick	Spider Sparrow	*	4-6	A small, intellectually disabled baby is abandoned in a lambing pen and adopted by a kind shepherd and his wife. Nicknamed 'Spider' because of the way he moved on hands and feet, he grows up happy and loved, although he gets his share of teasing by the children in the town. His talent is talking to and being accepted by all animals and birds. The book concludes with his death at age 16, so it is a rather sad story.
Konigsburg, E.L.	Altogether, One at a Time	*	4-6	Four short stories about kids who learn that things are not always all good or all bad. In the first story Jason is forced to invite a 'nothing' boy to his party, only to find out the most popular kid in school actually enjoys talking to the 'nothing' boy.
Konigsburg, E.L.	Throwing Shadows		4-6	Five short stories about five different youth who learn something important about themselves as they learn to appreciate differences and the pleasure of helping others. Excellent for class discussion.
Konigsburg, E.L.	The View from Saturday	*	4-6	The sixth grade Academic Bowl team of 4 is a surprising team, beating not only the other sixth grade classes, but seventh and eighth grade champion classes as well. Each of the 4 members has their own story, which is intertwined with the others.
Lalicki, Tom	Frame-up on the Bowery: A Houdini and Nate Mystery	*	4-6	Teen age Nate is an amateur PI who has made friends with Houdini. A nice mystery for mystery lovers.
Lawrence, Lain	The Giant Slayer		4-6	It's 1955 and Laurie is telling the story of a giant slayer to her friend Dickie who shares a room with two others also imprisoned in iron lungs, victims of polio. Laurie's father fears she might also get polio and doesn't want her there. A sad but important novel about the effects of polio.
Lawson, Robert	Rabbit Hill	*	4-6	All the animals are excited because a new family is moving into the abandoned farm house. The couple that moves in loves animals and plants a garden large enough to feed them and all the rabbits, deer, mice, etc who lived around them. Written in 1944, it is as lovable and relevant today.
Lenski, Lois	Strawberry Girl		4-6	Everyone who loves the American Girls series should love this book and the others in Lenski's Regional Stories. Written in 1945, it features Birdie Boyer, a Florida Cracker who lives with her family on a flatwoods farm and raises strawberries. Birdie's father doesn't drink, but their neighbor does, and they have to be on the alert when he gets drunk.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Lerangis, Peter	The 39 Clues: Book 7: The Viper's Nest	*	4-6	Every clue (one per book) takes them to a different area of the world and different historical figure. This one is set in Indonesia. Multiple authors for the series
Lisle, Janet Taylor	Afternoon of the Elves	*	4-6	A rather sad story about two girls who become friends. One comes from an average loving family and has friends at school; the other is the school outcast whose father has gone and who staunchly, silently, and alone takes care of her very sick mother.
Lowry, Lois	Anastasia has the Answers	*	4-6	13 year old Anastasia determines to learn how to climb a rope although she is miserably uncoordinated. Good family interaction.
McCloskey, Robert	Homer Price		4-6	This American classic was written in 1943, but its characters are as wonderful today as they were then. Homer is a polite, clever small town kid, willing to help whenever he's asked and able to find solutions to problems the town adults can't figure out.
McKinley, Robin	The Hero and the Crown	*	4-6	Although there is the boy-loves-girl element, the main story of this fantasy is about the daughter of a kind and loving king who goes off to save her country and people, even though they have never accepted her because she is 'not quite human.'
McKissack, Patricia	Sojourner Truth: Ain't I a Woman?		4-6	The story of a slave who was set free, who struggled to keep her family together, and later went all over the country, speaking against slavery.
Miles, Betty	Just the Beginning		4-6	Cathy's lower middle class family lives in an upper middle class area. She has to deal with the embarrassment of her mother going to work as a cleaning lady and the pressures of living up to her highly accomplished older sister. The situations portrayed are real issues, and the resolution of them shows good family interaction.
Milton, Hilary H.	Tornado!	*	4-6	An exciting adventure story about a mother and her 14-yr old son and 7-yr old daughter who get caught in the countryside in a tornado. The boy is responsible and able to help his injured mother and his sister who is bitten by a copperhead snake.
Mortenson, Greg and David Oliver Relin adapted by	The Young Reader's Edition: Three Cups of Tea: One Man's Journey to Change the World ... One Child at a Time		4-6	This is based on the book of the same name written for adults. This adaptation includes more information about Mortenson's family, and much is from the perspective of his 12 year old daughter. Interesting, inspiring and motivating.
Murrow, Liza Ketchum	The Ghost of Lost Island	*	4-6	Gabe finally gets to help his grandfather shear sheep on Lost Island. He forges a bond with his older sister as they deal with the nightmare of seeing a real ghost (who turns out to be an old woman who wants to stay hidden).

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Myers, Walter Dean	Fallen Angels	*	4-6	The story of a 17-yr old who joined the army and was sent to Vietnam. A realistic treatment of the moral questions that involvement in the war brings up in the soldiers who wonder why they are supposed to shoot other soldiers just as young and just as afraid as they.
Naylor, Phyllis Reynolds	Bodies in the Bessedorf Hotel	*	4-6	Bernie is part of a loving family that has suffered a lot of hard times. Now his father is manager of a hotel, and someone is trying to sabotage his job by having people pretend to be dead in their hotel rooms and then disappearing.
Naylor, Phyllis Reynolds	Sang Spell	*	4-6	This fantasy is about a boy who mysteriously enters a hidden community of Melungeons high in the Appalachian hills. It contains a reference to the Islamic/Jewish/ Andalusian background of these people.
Naylor, Phyllis Reynolds	Faith, Hope, and Ivy June	*	4-6	Rich city girl in an exchange program with a poor country girl. They take turns living in each other's home - and learn to disregard stereotypes, appreciate both what they see at each other's home, and what they have in theirs, especially family.
Nesbit, E.	The Railway Children		4-6	This 1906 children's classic is still fun to read. The three children in the family have fun, and help their mother without seeming too 'goody goody'. Their favorite fun is to run down to the train station and wave at the trains as they go by. After their father goes missing, the family comes together to help one another cope.
Nesbit, Edith	Five Children and It	*	4-6	An old fashioned, likeable family of 5 brothers and sisters who find a sand fairy who grants them one wish each day, and each wish lasts for only one day.
Nesbit, Edith	The Book of Dragons	*	4-6	8 stories about dragons. The children in each are brothers and sisters.
Nesbit, Edith	The Story of the Treasure Seekers		4-6	Written in 1889, the six Bastable children try numerous (and funny) ways to help with the family finances. Good family, and good manners.
Nix, Garth	The Seventh Tower (series): Vol. 1: The Fall	*	4-6	13 year old Tal has to assume responsibility for his sick mother and younger siblings when his father is reported dead. In the search for a Sunstone which will enable him to do so, he discovers two other worlds, one above the dark veil in the bright light of the sun, and one below his seven tower castle at the icy bottom of the mountain. An exciting adventure, with some magical creatures. There are six 'cliff hanger' books in the series.
Park, Linda Sue	Archer's Quest	*	4-6	A Korean-American boy meets an ancient Korean hero-King and learns the value of practice and dedication while helping the hero return to his correct century.
Park, Linda Sue	A Single Shard		4-6	A beautifully written book about an orphan boy in 12th century Korea who begins by living with a handicapped man under a bridge, but through dreams, hard work, and respect for elders, finds himself a home.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Paterson, Katherine	The King's Equal		4-6	When the arrogant but handsome, intelligent, and wealthy prince finds a woman he concedes is his equal, she turns him down because he, by his own admission, is less than she. The prince must live for a year in poverty in the woods, as she did, in order to become worthy of her.
Paterson, Katherine	Jip: His Story	*	4-6	Jip is an orphan living at the poor farm in 1855, not knowing anything about himself. He befriends the friendless and all animals and is okay with his life - until the stranger shows up.
Paul, Donita	Dragonspell		4-6	In the religious footsteps of The Lion , The Witch and The Wardrobe , Kale discovers she is a dragon keeper, able to find and nurture dragons in a fantasy land created by Wulder, who along with his closest servant Paledin, helps good fight evil to save the world.
Paulson, Gary	The Time Hackers	*	4-6	A 12 year old boy and his friend are confronted with bizarre happenings due to a newly discovered way to bring things from the past into the present. Story features good parents.
Peck, Dale	Drift House: The First Voyage		4-6	A 12 year old girl and her two younger brothers go to live with their rather clueless uncle in a house that actually drifts on the Sea of Time. Exciting adventure and good sibling relations. The first book in a series.
Peck, Richard	Fair Weather	*	4-6	A novel about a rural family going to the World's Fair in 1893 Chicago where they see the first Ferris Wheel. Good family relations and funny episodes.
Peck, Richard	The Great Interactive Dream Machine	*	4-6	In this sequel to Lost in Cyberspace , 6th grader Josh and his extremely brilliant, nerdy, best friend get themselves transported to his dog's dream place (the beach) and then his sister's dream place (the Hamptons). For kids who like science fiction.
Pendergraft, Patricia	Brushy Mountain		4-6	13-yr old Arney is a good kid from a family that practices the Christian faith they follow. Although he thinks he 'hates' the meanest man in town, he somehow finds that he ends up helping him. He learns that one should do good, even if no one else is willing to do so, and even if the recipient is ungrateful. An interesting, non-moralizing story.
Pennypacker, Sara	Clementine and the Family Meeting		4-6	Part of the Clementine series that is both funny and excellent in its family relations. Clementine's parents call a family meeting to discuss with her and her brother the possibility of having another baby. Good book about sibling rivalry.
Perkins, Mitali	Rickshaw Girl		4-6	A sympathetic portrayal of a very poor girl in Bangladesh who wants to help her rickshaw driving father. Realistic showing problems of poverty but also showing a loving family who try to help each other.
Pfeffer, Susan	Who Were They	*	4-6	Very interesting for children who are familiar with children's

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Beth	Really? The True Stories Behind Famous Characters			classics like Little Women, Alice in Wonderland, Winnie the Pooh, etc.
Pinkney, Andrea	Hand in Hand: Ten Black Men Who Changed America		4-6	Non fiction biographies told in a storyteller's mode. Excellent.
Place, Francois	The Old Man Mad About Drawing: A Tale of Hokusai	*	4-6	A delightful tale about a small boy in Japan who becomes friends with Hokusai, the real-life famous Japanese illustrator and printmaker. The book illustrations are delightful, and some of Hokusai's prints are included.
Pomerantz, Charlotte	If I Had a Paka		4-6	Delightful poems in 11 languages with translation. Includes Swahili and Indonesian.
Pomerantz, Charlotte	Thunderboom: Poems for Everyone	*	4-6	Many unpredictable and joyful poems, and nothing overtly unIslamic.
Radin, Ruth Yaffe	All Joseph Wanted		4-6	Joseph loves his mother very much and likes to help her, but he really wants to find someone other than himself to teach her how to read.
Riordan, Rick	The 39 Clues: Book 1: The Maze of Bones	*	4-6	Amy and Dan are mystified by their Grandmother's will that pits them against several sets of dangerous distant relatives in the search for 39 clues that will lead them to the greatest power in the world. The first in The 39 Clues series.
Robinson, Barbara	My Brother Louis Measures Worms: And Other Louis Stories		4-6	When the narrator is ten, her brother Louis, age 5 (going on 30), drives the car because his mother doesn't like to drive, and he found out that he is able to. The mother is wonderfully absent minded and vague about much in life, but both parents love their children, and they love each other. Funny things happen, in an almost logical way – at least according to mother's logic.
Rodda, Emily	Deltora Quest (series); Book 1: The Forests of Silence	*	4-6	An exciting fantasy series where 16-year old Lief sets out to recover the stolen gems that have for years kept his country safe. There are eight books in the series. Family is marginal, but good.
Ruelle, Karen Gray	The Grand Mosque of Paris: A Story of How Muslims Rescued Jews During the Holocaust		4-6	It is unfortunate that this factual and important event is put into a picture book that looks like it is for young children. Every Muslim and non Muslim should read this book, and it should be discussed in school. The Muslims of Paris helped the Jews, as good Muslims should, when their lives were threatened by the Nazis. It is told as a documentary, using what the few accounts that survived reveal about what was done and how the Muslims were able to help so many Jews.
Skurzynski, Gloria and Alane Ferguson	Mysteries in Our National Parks: Night of the Blackbear: A Mystery in Great	*	4-6	In this book, Mystery #13 in the Mysteries in Our National Parks series, siblings Jack and Ashley try to find out why bears are attacking park visitors in this realistic fiction. This breathtaking new adventure features an afterword by a park naturalist on black bear behavior and the problems caused

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
	Smoky Mountains National Park			by tourists feeding wildlife.
Snyder, Zilpha Keatley	The Egypt Game	*	4-6	Written and set in 1967, a group of middle school kids create a game about ancient Egypt and hijinks ensue. Warning: includes idol worship, rituals, and sacrifices which the characters in the book take very seriously.
Spinelli, Jerry	The Library Card		4-6	Four humorous and tender stories about how a library card can change lives. Parents are shown as positive and supporting.
Spinelli, Jerry	Loser		4-6	The boy in the book isn't good at anything, a real loser – but he doesn't know it. He has the support of a loving family, he is a happy kid, and in the end a hero.
Terrell, French	Operation Redwood	*	4-6	Quiet 12-year old Julian Carter-Li joins forces with his best friend and a girl to try to save some old growth redwood trees. The problems they face are realistic, but the happy ending is improbable. The girl's family is good and conscientious.
Van Leeuwen, Jean	Cabin on Trouble Creek	*	4-6	Brothers aged 12 and 9 stay alone in their partially finished cabin in the Ohio wilderness for almost one year while their father goes for the rest of the family. Based on true story.
Voigt, Cynthia	Dacey's Song		4-6	Eighth grader Dacey takes good care of her younger brothers and sister when her Mom gets sick. They now live with their grandmother who, despite her eccentricities, is full of concern for her family. Homecoming is the prequel to this novel.
Voigt, Cynthia	Izzy, Willy-Nilly		4-6	This is a riveting story about driving drunk and the devastating consequences it can wreak. As a result of the car crash, Izzy's leg is amputated, and she has to deal with friends who no longer are friends and a girl who wants to be her friend but doesn't know how.
Waters, Fiona	The Brave Sister: A Story from the Arabian Nights	*	4-6	A beautiful picture book and a well-written story. The book's publisher writes, "Once upon a time when magic still worked, Persia was ruled by a sultan who was a good and wise man, much loved by his people..." And so begins a magical, spellbinding tale, full of dervishes, talking birds, eternal fountains, and a brave and spirited sister.
Watkins, Dawn L.	Medallion	*	4-6	An allegory that teaches the virtues of faith and honesty: in this story the young Prince Trave has to search for a sacred medallion in order to claim his rightful place as King of Gadalla.
Whelan, Gloria	The Turning	*	4-6	Tatiana, a Russian ballerina in 1991, has to decide whether to defect to France while on tour with her company in Paris or stay and fight for democracy at home.
Wiggin, Kate Douglas	Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm	*	4-6	An American classic (recommended by Mark Twain), about an irrepressible, good-natured, passionate girl with remarkable spirit. Unlike in some other old fashioned books, the heroine is a realistic child. She gets into mischief and worries her elderly aunts, but still learns how to respect the elderly while living life to the fullest.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Winkler, Henry and Lin Oliver	Hank Zipper: Niagara Falls, or Does It?		4-6	This is one of several very funny stories about a boy with dyslexia. In this one, his parents don't yet recognize that he has dyslexia, so they think he is just lazy, careless, etc., until a teacher at school recognizes his problem and visits his parents. As with all in this series, Hank has friends who accept his disability without thinking of him as stupid or less than others.
Winkler, Henry and Lin Oliver	Hank Zipper: The Zippity Zinger		4-6	Hank is a very inventive kid whose projects often have funny results. His friends don't think his dyslexia makes him stupid or lazy. How they do this makes this an excellent story and a recommended book even though one of his friends is a girl.
Winkler, Henry and Lin Oliver	Hank Zipper: Day of the Iguana		4-6	Hank is dislexic, which his father finally acknowledges. He still messes up most of what he does, but he also succeeds in fulfilling his promise to his friend, and loves watching the birth of 27 iguanas.
Woods, Brenda	My Name is Sally Little Song		4-6	This is excellent historical fiction about a slave family that escapes to the safety of a Seminole tribe in the Everglade swamps.
Wright, Barbara	Crow		4-6	Told through the eyes of 12 year old Moses Thomas, this realistic fiction centers on an African American family caught up in the Wilmington Massacre of 1898. Excellent book about the development of the Jim Crow South. Frighteningly close to what is happening to Muslims now.
Yeoman, John	The Seven Voyages of Sinbad the Sailor	*	4-6	A faithful retelling of the original story except that all references to Allah and Islam are taken out.
Yeoman, John	Sleeping Ugly	*	4-6	A wonderful retelling of the story of the princess who falls asleep until she is awakened by a kiss from a prince; a story where the ugly but good girl wins a good but poor prince.

The section below contains 102 book titles for reading levels of 6-9.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Aiken, Joan	Dido and Pa	*	6-9	Dido is an enterprising, brave girl who does her best to be a dutiful daughter while not aiding her rascally Pa. Set in London during the time of good King Richard, Dido helps thwart the plan, of which her pa is a part, to assassinate the king.
Albert, Edoardo	Imam Al-Ghazali: A Concise Life		6-9	A non-fiction biography that is well written, factual, and interesting. It is 75 pages.
Alexander, Lloyd	The First Two Lives of Lukas-Kasha	*	6-9	A fun loving, never-do-well young man gets transported to a different world and learns to be a responsible help to others

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
				when he is proclaimed king.
Alexander, Lloyd	The Jedera Adventure		6-9	This exciting adventure of an 18-yr old heroine takes place during the 1850s in the country of Jedera, which is a thinly disguised Mali. Timely remarks by the heroine's guardian tell the reader that there are good things and bad things, good people and bad in both Jedera and the heroine's home in Philadelphia. Her destination in Mali is the famous library (of real Timbuktu) where she returns a valuable copy of a book of medicinal herbs by Ibn Sina.
Alexander, Lloyd	Westmark	*	6-9	Honest Theo has to team up with a con artist and his servant Musket in order to survive tumultuous times. A servant girl joins them, who turns out to be an escaped princess. The wisdom of the book is that good does not triumph over evil simply because it is good - you have to work hard at it. They start out just trying to protect themselves, but in the end have to save a kingdom. This is the first book in the Westmark Trilogy.
Asgedom, Mawi	Of Beetles & Angels: a Boy's Remarkable Journey		6-9	The true autogiographical story of a poor refugee boy from Ethiopia who goes on to graduate from Harvard. Well written and entertaining, it stresses hard work, being good to others, and believing in God. He is Christain but only talks about God.
Auxier, Jonathan	Peter Nimble and His Fantastic Eyes	*	6-9	Blind Peter thinks he is an orphan forced to be a thief, but in the process of helping a princess, he learns that he is her brother.
Ayres, Katherine	Macaroni Boy		6-9	Set in the depression when Italians were the despised minority, Mike Costa is part of a close knit family that works together. He learns that fighting is not always the best way to resolve a problem or deal with your enemy.
Ayres, Katherine	Silver Dollar Girl	*	6-9	Valentine runs away from her aunt's house in Pittsburgh to go find her father in the silver mines of Colorado in 1885. She gets, and appreciates, help from various people along the way.
Ayres, Katherine	Stealing South: A Story of the Underground Railroad	*	6-9	Will leaves his family, who are Underground Railroad workers in a small town in Ohio, to make his way as a peddler. While traveling in Kentucky, Will deals with moral issues about slavery, family duty, and friendship. The book shows how a person can be good to some while doing evil to others.
Baillie, Allan	Little Brother		6-9	Vithy's older brother rescues him from the vicious Khmer Rouge soldiers, but then they lose each other in the wild jungle. Vithy survives by remembering what he has learned from his father and from his brother, and learning who he can trust as he struggles to find his brother and the border in order to make it out of Cambodia.
Barrett, Tracy	Cold in Summer	*	6-9	This is a ghost story about Ariadne's adjustment to living in a very small town and the ghost who helps her, and in turn needs help from her.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Bauer, Marion Dane	A Bear Named Trouble	*	6-9	A realistic animal story about 10-yr old Jonathan, who practically lives at the Alaska Zoo where his father is a keeper, and a wild young brown bear known as Trouble, who wanders onto the zoo grounds.
Bell, Ted	Nick of Time: an Adventure Through Time	*	6-9	Told in the style of Rober Lewis Stevenson, this exciting adventure emphasizes duty and honor. The present time is 1939, and the time travel is the time of Admiral Nelson. Both times involve helping the British navy defeat its enemies.
Berkeley, Jon	The Wednesday Tales (series)	*	6-9	Miles Wednesday and his 400-yr old tiny angel friend meet with lots of unusual people (many of them circus folks) and strange adventures as they try to discover information about his missing parents in this fantasy series."
Beshir, Sumaiya	A Light at the End of the Tunnel: The Stories of Muslim Teens		6-9	Non-fiction. Real teens tell their stories of ease after hardships. Shows real problems of teens and how they finally got help.
Buckley, Michael	The Sisters Grimm		6-9	Sabrina and her sister Daphne live with their grandmother Relda Grimm in a town of fairy-tale magical characters. They solve mysteries as they hunt for their kidnapped parents. Engaging and funny series.
Buss, Fran Leeper	Journey of the Sparrows	*	6-9	Maria, her sick little brother, and pregnant older sister are illegal immigrants from El Salvador living in Chicago. These siblings care for each other as they pray for their mother's safe arrival from El Salvador. A realistic look at the lives of underground immigrants.
Choldenko, Gennifer	Al Capone Does My Shirts		6-9	In 1935, 12 year old Moose Flanagan moves with his family to Alcatraz Island for his dad to work there. It's a difficult transition for Moose, particularly because he is trying to protect and care for his severely autistic sister, Natalie. Life on Alcatraz is made more difficult by a classmate who bullies the other kids to join her in activities where they end up getting blamed and she lies her way out. Includes an historical afterward on Alcatraz Island.
Choldenko, Gennifer	No Passengers Beyond this Point	*	6-9	12 year old worrier Finn, 15 year old charmer India, and their 6 year old genius little sister Mouse find themselves in a world where dreams come true - but you are not allowed to leave.
Clinton, Cathryn	A Stone in my Hand	*	6-9	Written by a non Muslim, an empathetic book about life in Gaza City, Palestine, in 1988. 11 year old Malaak has to deal with the death of her father and her older brother Hamid's desire to fight against the occupation by throwing stones at the Israeli soldiers.
Cooper, Susan	The Boggart	*	6-9	12 yr old Emily Volnik and her younger brother Jess meet the Boggart, an invisible, mischievous, but benevolent spirit that enjoys playing tricks on people, when they stay in their family's newly inherited castle in Scotland. When the Boggart inadvertently travels back to Toronto with the Volniks, hijinks ensue and the siblings have to figure out how to get the Boggart back home to Scotland.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Cooper, Susan	The Boggart and the Monster	*	6-9	On a return trip to Scotland, the Volnik siblings learn that the Loch Ness Monster is actually a Boggart; he is the Boggart's cousin who has gotten stuck in his big monster body, and the siblings need to help him get out of that body and back home to his castle before he is discovered by scientists seeking the Loch Ness Monster. Good story about ancient magic versus modern technology. This book is a sequel to The Boggart.
Creech, Sharon	The Wanderer	*	6-9	13 year old Sophie goes with her three uncles and two cousins to sail across the Atlantic. Sophie's struggle to reclaim who she is inspires similar exploration from those around her as they discover the joys and trials of belonging to a family.
Crutcher, Chris	Whale Talk		6-9	TJ, a gifted student and athlete, decides to form a swimming team and recruits some of the school's least popular students. A wonderful book, but please note its dark threads of child abuse.
Curry, Jane Louise	The Black Canary	*	6-9	12-yr old biracial James transports to 16th century England where he is forced to join the Children of the Chapel Royal, a group that performs for the Queen.
DeFelice, Cynthia C.	Under the Same Sky	*	6-9	14-yr old Joe's father hires Mexican migrant workers for his farm. Joe goes from indifferent to admiration and understanding of their problems. Only drawback is he becomes interested in Luisa because she is pretty, and they share one kiss before she has to run off because she is an illegal alien.
Di Piazza, Francesca Davis	Mali in Pictures		6-9	Excellent factual book about Mali, its history, and its people. Part of the Visual Geography Series.
Draper, Sharon	Out of My Mind		6-9	11-yr old Melody has a photographic memory and cerebral palsy, which prevents her from talking or doing most physical activity. Her family helps her find a way to communicate. She wins a place on the school's quiz team, but gets left behind, on purpose, as the team travels to the state finals.
Dunmore, Helen	Ingo	*	6-9	A brother and sister have some mer (as in mermaids) in them. Apparently their father has gone to live in the sea, and they are pulled between the sea and their mother who is definitely an earth person.
Durrant, Lynda	The Sun, the Rain, and the Apple Seed: a novel of Johnny Applesseed's life	*	6-9	This man is an important part of American folk legend, and this novel does an excellent job of portraying this Bible-quoting, slightly simple minded idealist who sets off with his apple seeds to help feed the new settlers.
Dygaard, Thomas	Running Wild	*	6-9	Pete's a senior in high school, running with the wrong crowd. He is forced to join the football team but discovers that he likes football and likes being part of a good group, a team member.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Findlay, Jamieson	The Blue Roan Child	*	6-9	Syeira is an orphaned girl who rescues a mare and helps the mare find and rescue her two colts. A beautiful, lyrical horse story.
Forester, Victoria	The Girl Who Could Fly	*	6-9	Piper is the daughter of stolid farmers, and her flying ability is frowned on by the community. An evil woman tries to 'cure' her of her flying. Loving family, good story
Franklin, Kristine L.	Grape Thief	*	6-9	12-yr old Slava Petrovich lives in a coal mining town in 1925. His close-knit family runs into trouble when his older brothers rough up a criminal who tries to court their sister. Every adult in town seems to drink too much, but drinking causes them nothing but trouble. The town is full of immigrants; the hero's family is Croatian.
Franklin, Kristine L.	Lone Wolf	*	6-9	Perry lives in isolation with his divorced dad, a silent man who doesn't know how to communicate with his son. At first, Perry was a loner like his dad, but he is drawn to the warmth of a large family that moves in nearby.
Funke, Cornelia	Dragon Rider	*	6-9	A fantasy about a boy who makes friends with a dragon and helps to find a safe place for dragons to hide from humans. The boy is an orphan, but he meets with and becomes attached to a good family.
Garcia, Laura Gallego	The Legend of the Wandering King		6-9	The novel is based on the few facts known about the famous pre-Islamic poet Imru'ul Qays. At the court of his father, the ruler of Kinda (in Arabia), he was known as the best poet, but then in one competition he is bested by an old man. Imru'ul's jealousy gets the better of him, and his cruel revenge ends in the death of the old man. Grief stricken, he becomes the wandering king until he redeems himself.
Gear, Kathleen O'Neal and W. Michael Gear	Children of the Dawnland	*	6-9	Twig is a talented dreamer who faces great danger as she struggles to save her prehistoric village from impending doom. Set 13,000 years ago in the area of the northeastern US and Ontario.
Giff, Patricia Reilly	Pictures of Hollis Woods		6-9	12-yr old Hollis is an orphan who has moved from foster home to foster home her whole life. She is now living with an aging artist. She finds the family she has been wishing for since she was five, but still is concerned for and looks after the old artist.
Gordon, Roderick	Tunnels Series (Books 1 through 5)	*	6-9	As of Book 5, Spiral, there is minimal romance in the exciting Tunnels Series. Human looking creatures from deep underground are taking over the Earth above ground. It is up to 14 year old Will Burrows and his friend Chester to solve the mysteries of the Tunnels and save the people of Earth.
Grimes, Nikki	The Road to Paris		6-9	Paris is an 8 year old biracial child who has been passed from foster home to foster home. Finally she is placed with a loving foster family but is separated from her brother Malcolm who has been the only constant in her life. After one year, Paris has to decide whether to stay with the family or give her mother another chance at providing a stable home. Her faith in God helps sustain her. Christian theme but no reference to the trinity.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Grisham, John	Theodore Boone: Kid Lawyer	*	6-9	13 year old Theo, whose parents are both lawyers, is totally enamored of the courtroom and of everything related to the law. Some problems he solves by himself, but when it involves a murder he enlists the help of his parents. The sequel to this book is Theodore Boone: The Abduction. The sequel is not quite as appropriate as Theo begins to be interested in girls, but nothing comes of his interest. Both books will appeal to readers who are interested in the law.
Grove, Vicki	The Fastest Friend in the West	*	6-9	One overweight girl longs for acceptance at school, and a new student turns out to be homeless, living with her family in a station wagon. They both have caring families although the one mother pushes desserts and the father in the other family yells and acts out because he cannot support his family.
Grover, Wayne	Ali and the Golden Eagle	*	6-9	A wonderful, true story about the author and Ali, a Saudi boy he befriends. The story focuses on Ali's golden eagle that they train to hunt. Ali's eagle is special because it is the only eagle known to have been tamed and taught to hunt.
Haddix, Margaret Peterson	Running Out of Time	*	6-9	Jessie lives with her family in what she knows as a frontier village in the 1840's, but in reality is actually a research and tourist experiment where inhabitants live like it is 1840 even though it's really 1996. When diphtheria spreads, Jessie has to escape out of the village to the modern world to find help. A nice twist on time travel. Good family relations.
Hale, Marian	The Truth about Sparrows	*	6-9	During the depression, 12-yr old Sadie becomes poor. When her family moves to Texas to try to find work, she misses her best friend and hates to go to school where she is looked down on for being poor and her father is looked down on because of his polio-withered legs. Good family relations and good neighbor relations.
Hamilton, Virginia	The House of Dies Drear		6-9	Thomas and his family go to live in the house that the abolitionist Dies Drear made into an important station on the Underground Railroad. Excellent historical fiction, and the boy's parents are supportive of him.
Hiaasen, Carl	Hoot	*	6-9	It's a case of big business versus an endangered species. Roy and his friends take on Mother Paula's All American Pancake House on behalf of cute burrowing owls. The new boy in school, Roy first tries diplomacy and talk, and finally trickery to stop being bullied. (from Publisher)
Hightman, Jason	The Saint of Dragon	*	6-9	The last decedents of St. George have to fight dragons in

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
				present day England and Europe."
Hobbs, Will	Leaving Protection	*	6-9	16 year old Robbie goes troller fishing for salmon in Alaska; it's an exciting but terrifying trip as he sees signs that his boss might be trying to kill him because Robbie knows too much about his boss's search for illegal hidden treasures along the coast.
Hunter, Mollie	The King's Swift Rider: A Novel on Robert the Bruce	*	6-9	Based on the true story of Robert the Bruce, King of Scots, 16 year old Martin Crawford joins him as his messenger and spy.
Isaacson, Philip	Round Buildings, Square Buildings, & Buildings That Wiggle Like a Fish	*	6-9	Non-fiction. The author shares his love of buildings and gives readers a lot of photos, including 6 or 7 Muslim-built buildings like the Taj Mahal.
Ismail, Suzy	The BFF Sisters: Jennah's New Friends	*	6-9	Muslim girls make a new friend and learn about friendship.
Jacques, Brian	Mossflower		6-9	A prequel to Redwall, this book is a fantasy where mice, moles, otters, and squirrels are pitted against a cruel allegiance of wildcats, weasels, and stouts. An exciting story with no un-Islamic elements.
Jiang, Ji-li	Red Scarf Girl: A Memoir of the Cultural Revolution		6-9	Ji-li was a loyal fan of Mao's China until the Cultural Revolution when everything in her world turned upside down. Near the end, we learn she and her family are Muslims.
Johnson, Annabel and Edgar Johnson	The Grizzly	*	6-9	Although Mark's parents are divorced, they both love him and want what is best for him. The problem is they want opposite things for him. A weekend fishing trip with Mark's father involves a confrontation with some old hidden fears, and a very real grizzly that injures the father.
Jones, Diane Wynne	The Dalemark Quartet, Volume 1: Cart and Cwiddar and Drowned Ammet	*	6-9	An exciting and often funny fantasy series. Mitt, a poor boy in a country ruled by a tyrant, ends up in a boat with two of the tyrant's grandchildren. He is confronted with the fact that what we want to do is not always the right thing to do. The books can be read out of order.
Kelly, Lynne	Chained	*	6-9	10 yr old Hastin works as an elephant boy in the jungles of India to earn money to pay for his little sister's medicine.
Kessler, Christina	Trouble in Timbuktu		6-9	The exciting adventure of 13 year old Muslim Malian twins, Ayisha and Ahmed, who are determined to stop an unscrupulous archeologist who is trying to steal ancient manuscripts. The boy acts as guide to the man so the author is able to give lots of detailed information about the city of Timbuktu and the wonderful library of manuscripts which prove that Africans were writing on a wide variety of topics over a thousand years ago.
Kirby, Matthew J.	The Clockwork	*	6-9	A riveting adventure starring three children (Giuseppe,

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
	Three			Hannah, Frederick), ages 10-13, from very different backgrounds who join forces to help each other. Although two are orphans, all had good families. There is physical attraction between two of them - they like each other but don't go too far with it.
Klages, Ellen	The Green Glass Sea	*	6-9	A historical novel set in Los Alamos where they are developing the first atomic bomb. 11 yr old Dewey lives in the compound - a very bright misfit girl who likes mechanical projects.
Laird, Elizabeth	Kiss the Dust		6-9	A realistic story of a Kurdish family that escapes Iraq over mountains to Iran and from there to England."
Levin, Betty	The Trouble with Gramary	*	6-9	Merkka lives with her eccentric grandmother whose scrap metal welding upsets the 'important people' in their town. Gramary teaches Merkka about courage, sticking to one's principles, and about the love that keeps families together.
Levine, Gail Carson	The Two Princesses of Bamarre	*	6-9	One princess is bold and brave; the other is shy and fearful, but when the bold one sickens, the fearful one goes out to fight ogres, etc., to find the cure.
Levine, Gail Carson	Princess Sonora and the Long Sleep	*	6-9	This sleeping beauty retold tale has a heroine who is gifted with an intelligence 10 times smarter than everyone else and has a loving heart. The prince who wakes her is full of questions and delighted to find a princess who has all the answers."
Lipsyte	The Brave	*	6-9	Sonny Bear is an angry Amerian Indian boy who has the potential to be a great boxer if he can just control the angry monster inside of him.
Lorenzi, Natalie Dias	Flying the Dragon		6-9	Newly arrived immigrant Hiroshi from Japan has problem with English and his American born cousin. She has problems with Japaenese and this cousin who wants to monopolize their grandfather. Realistic situation, good family connections.
Lovejoy, Bahia and Barbara Cohen	Seven Daughters and Seven Sons		6-9	Based on an 11th century Iraqi tale about a middle daughter from a poor but good family of seven girls who disguises herself as a man so she can go out into the world to make her fortune and help her family.
Lowry, Lois	Gathering Blue	*	6-9	Another book to make youth think - about community, the weak, and one's commitment to both. Kira is physically handicapped but has an almost magical talent with thread. She has a difficult decision to make - leaving her flawed society, staying just for her own benefit, or staying and making the dangerous decision to try to change what's wrong.
McKissack, Patricia	The Clone Codes Series	*	6-9	At least the first two books in the series are free of romance. Thought provoking series which poses the question "Are clones human?" Here the clones are treated to dull their minds so they make good slaves.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Meechan, Kierin	Hannah's Winter	*	6-9	Set in Japan with lots of cultural information nicely integrated, this fantasy tells the story of Hannah, an Australian girl living in Japan with a Japanese family (family friends) who has the ghost of a young boy contact her. She and her new friend Miki set out to figure out who he was and how they can help him.
Mohammed, Javed	Walk to Freedom		6-9	A fictional account of a Pakistani who had to move to India at the time of the partition. Well written and an important part of Muslim history."
Mohammed, Javed	Walk to Freedom: A Historic Journey		6-9	A grandfather tells the story of his life in India and the mass exodus of Muslims moving from the Punjab as India was divided into two countries (India and Pakistan) during Partition. He himself was one of them and he had to fight for his freedom across three continents. An important and interesting book.
Naidoo, Beverly	The Other Side of Truth	*	6-9	12-yr old Sade and her younger brother flee Nigeria after their mother's murder and then are abandoned in London by the woman who accompanied them. This book explores the issues of family, exile, and freedom.
Nix, Garth and Sean Williams	Troubletwisters	*	6-9	Magical disasters occur when the twins, Jaide and Jack Shield, are around, so they go stay with their strange grandmother and learn that they have an important role in saving the world from a dark and evil force. Good family relations.
Park, Linda Sue	When My Name Was Keoko		6-9	10 year old Sun-hee grew up in Japanese occupied Korea and was forced to change her name to a Japanese name, Keoko. Good family interactions with each person trying to do what is right for the family. Each chapter alternates first person narration between Sun-hee and her 13 year old brother Tae-yul (Japanese name Nubuo).
Patneau, David	Someone Was Watching	*	6-9	Mollie, 13 yr old Chris' little sister, is presumed drowned, but Chris thinks someone has kidnapped her and works to uncover the mystery and find his sister. Good family relations and good sibling relations.
Peck, Richard	The Teacher's Funeral: a comedy in three parts		6-9	15 year old Russell sees no reason to go to school in rural Indiana in 1904. Then his teacher dies, and his older sister Tansy becomes the teacher at the one room schoolhouse, and she is very strict. The result is a very funny book, with a family that cares about education.
Pellegrino, Marge	Journey of Dreams		6-9	Realistic fiction of a family fleeing from Guatemala in the 1980s and their journey to get to America.
Petersen, P.J.	Liars		6-9	Ninth grader Sam discovers that he can sense when someone is lying. He marvels at the little things people lie about, and he helps discover crooks. He also discovers fear as he senses

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
				that his father is lying to him and might be guilty of a crime. Excellent book for discussion of when and why it is sometimes good to lie (when protecting someone you are helping).
Pierce, Tamora	Territor		6-9	This exciting series with a stron heroine and special cat has a little too much romance, but considering the lack of recommended books, this one is not too bad.
Preller, James	Bystander	*	6-9	Eric is the new kid in 7th grade. The charismatic bully draws him into his innercircle. Eric has to decide whether to be a bystander or stand up to the bully. He has a good mother and an absent father lost in mental illness.
Ransom, Candice	Rebel McKenzie		6-9	12 year old Rebel has to babysit her much older sister's 7 year old child. She 'knows' what she wants in life, but by the end of the summer she realizes she is a different person than she thought.
Raskin, Ellen	The Westing Game		6-9	This very entertaining, very inventive mystery involves 16 people who are included in the will of a very rich excentric man. All they have to do to inherit millions is to answer the question - but no one knows what the question is.
Rawls, Wilson	Summer of the Monkeys		6-9	14 year old Jay Berry lives in the Ozark mountains. He spends his summer matching wits with a group of escaped monkeys from a circus train led by a wily chimp. Excellent family relations.
Ryan, Pam Munoz	Esperanza Rising		6-9	When her father is murdered, Esperanza goes from being a pampered rich girl on a Mexican estate to a poor immigrant farm worker in California. Esperanza's aristocrat mother is a wonderful role model who adapts herself to the new situation and shows appreciation for the help of her former servants who are now her family's benefactors. Good family and good community interactions.
Sanderson, Brandon	Alcatraz versus the Evil Librarians	*	6-9	Silly and funny story about a boy whose talent is breaking things and his grandfather whose talent is being late fighting the evil librarians who hide and distort true knowledge.
Sebesstyen, Ouida	Words By Heart		6-9	Lena's family is new and the only black family in town. She struggles to make her father proud by winning a Bible quoting contest. But she learns by the end of the book that it is true Christian belief and action – helping and forgiving the one who shot her father – that makes him proud. A good book for Muslims to learn about Christianity and the values that we share.
Senzai, N. H.	Shooting Kabul		6-9	Fadi flees Afghanistan with his family minus his 5-yr old sister who tragically gets left behind. In the US he has to adjust to a new culture, bullies, etc. Good family interaction, positive depiction of Islam, and insight into Afghani culture and politics.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Smiley, Jane	The Georges and the Jewels		6-9	A good book for horse lovers. Abby's father raises horses and 7th grade Abby is the one who trains and rides them until they can be sold to others. The family is loving but very strict. Warning: contains a few mild curse words.
Sorensen, Eric K.	New Tales of Nasrudin	*	6-9	These tales sound like traditional Nasrudin tales, but they are set in modern day. In these stories, Nasrudin deals with a psychologist, listens to a scientist talk about the speed of light, discusses the Women's Movement, and tries to play the clarinet.
Spinelli, Jerry	Maniac Magee		6-9	One of my favorite books. Maniac is a homeless boy with excellent running and ball skills who is innocent of the differences between whites and blacks. The whites don't understand why he is friends with blacks, and the blacks don't understand why he doesn't see the differences. There are good families on both sides. One small problem: he is about 10 and takes a bath with the children of the house he is staying in.
Steffoff, Rebecca	Marco Polo and the Medieval Explorers	*	6-9	A non-fiction account featuring Marco Polo but with good coverage of Ibn Battuta as well.
Tahan, Malba	The Man Who Counted: a collection of mathematical adventures		6-9	Beremiz Samir, the man who counted, summons his extraordinary mathematical powers to settle disputes, give wise advice, and overcome dangerous enemies on the way to Damascus in the 10th century. Unfortunately the only mathematicians who are praised are the Greeks.
Tames, Richard	The Rise of Islam: History Through Sources	*	6-9	A 44-page appealing history of Islam, with only one serious mistake (cause of war with Byzantines).
Urban, Linda	A Crooked Kind of Perfect	*	6-9	11 year old Zoe dreams of being a concert pianist but gets a cheap organ instead. She does the best with what she has, including a father she loves who is afraid of going outside the house. Excellent family relations.
Voigt, Cynthia	The Vandemark Mummy	*	6-9	The Hall family is split – Mother has chosen to take a high paying, time consuming job in one state while the 12-yr old and 15-yr old live with Father in another state. Well written mystery about a stolen mummy; it also raises the question of who goes where when both spouses are professionals, and how that affects the kids.
Weis, Margaret	A Rumor of Dragons: Dragonlance Chronicles Part 1	*	6-9	Written for ages 8-13, this book is full of adventures where a group of friends, including elf, half elf, human, dwarf, and wizard, band together to fight the forces of the Dark Queen.
Wiles, Deborah	Countdown		6-9	Fiction based on the author's life when she was a 12 year old during the Cold War and the Cuban Missile Crisis of 1962. Multiple pages of actual photos, news statements, and song lyrics from that time period at the beginning of each chapter. Good family relations; very thoughtful characters. This book is the first in the Sixties Trilogy.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Yep, Laurence	Dragonwings		6-9	In this historical fiction, an 8-yr old boy goes to live with his father in San Francisco Chinatown in about 1900, when the Chinese were greatly discriminated against. An excellent book to use in the classroom for discussion about living under adverse conditions, the importance of family, and the importance of character.
Yep, Laurence	Dragon of the Lost Sea (Dragon Series)	*	6-9	Exciting series about a group composed of a dragon princess who can change her shape and size, a monkey with magical powers, and two children, who all battle evil doers.

The section below contains 40 book titles for reading levels of 9-12.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Aboulela, Leila	Coloured Lights	*	9-12	The author is a Sudanese Muslim who moved to the UK in her twenties. This is a collection of short stories: "Souvenirs" is about a Sudanese man who is married to a Scottish woman. One story is about a British Muslim convert who joins the university's Young Muslim Association. Another story is about a Muslim girl whose non-Muslim friend has an abortion. Islam is a positive force in the lives of many of the Muslims in these stories.
Aboulela, Leila	Minaret	*	9-12	Najwa, a Sudanese girl born into a wealthy family, falls in love with a nonreligious political student who tries to relieve her of her faith through rational arguments. When Najwa's father is executed on charges of bribery following a coup in Sudan, she and the rest of her family move to England. Najwa ends up being a poor maid, but she turns to her faith in Islam for support and guidance.
Aboulela, Leila	The Translator	*	9-12	For Muslim teens, this is the author's best book. Sammar, a Sudanese immigrant, works for and falls in love with a Scottish Islamic scholar who isn't Muslim. She struggles with her feelings for him, but depends on her strong faith to reach a properly Islamic solution. Her feelings and struggles are realistically portrayed. It has a happy ending when he accepts Islam honestly and fully.
Ahmed, Sufiya	Secrets of the Henna Girl	*	9-12	A well written story about forced marriages between English raised Pakistani girls and men from Pakistan.
As-Sibaa'ie, Dr. Mustafa	Civilization of Faith: A Journey through Islamic History		9-12	This is an excellent read, a journey through Islamic history, focusing on the highlights of the civilizations: racial equality, religious tolerance, etiquette in war, kindness to animals, etc.
Barakat, Ibtisam	Tasting the Sky: A Palestinian Childhood		9-12	This is the memoir of a Palestinian who recalls her terrifying and humiliating experiences as a child growing up in occupied Palestine, including having to leave her family home and visiting friends in a refugee camp. Her love of reading and writing give her hope and a future.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Brown, Tom Jr.	The Way of the Scout: A Native American Path to Finding Spiritual Meaning in a Physical World	*	9-12	This true story is as exciting as anything in fiction. It tells of how the author, as a young boy, meets an old Apache man who teaches the author and his friend how to be Indian scouts. The boys master tracking and hunting, as well as the moral awareness of the interconnectedness of nature.
Carter, Anne	The Shepherd's Granddaughter		9-12	Amani wants to be a shepherd like her grandfather, but the Israelis build a settlement next to their land and shoot at them when they go to their olive trees.
Cooney, Caroline B.	Diamonds in the Shadow		9-12	A white Christian family accepts to house a family of four refugees from Nigeria, not knowing that they are not the family whose identity they are using. Not only is this thought provoking story exciting (a fifth refugee from the same flight is looking to kill these four), but it also deals with the problems of helping people from such a different and difficult environment (civil war). This book is not for very sensitive youth as one of the refugee's stories is horrifying.
Dickinson, Peter	Eva	*	9-12	A science fiction novel about a girl whose mind/personality is transferred to a chimp's body because hers was severely damaged in a car accident. She has to learn to live as a chimp, interacting with other chimps. Gives the reader a lot to think about.
Dokey, Cameron	Belle: A Retelling of Beauty and the Beast (Once Upon a Time)		9-12	A great retelling of Beauty and the Beast where Belle's two more beautiful sisters are NOT the bad guys, but rather young ladies who can adapt to their new poverty as well as Belle.
Fernea, Elizabeth Warnock	Guests of the Sheik		9-12	Engaging account of a non Muslim American woman's life for the two years she lived in a small rural village in southern Iraq. Excellent treatment of the positive and negative in two vastly different cultures. Written in 1965.
Gibb, Camilla	Sweetness in the Belly	*	9-12	A novel about an English girl who grows up under the care of a Sufi sheikh in Morocco, moves to Ethiopia when she is 16 to live the righteous life of a poor Sufi, and who ends up working in England. The girl has an admirable faith, which finally waivers as she succumbs to the love of a Muslim doctor who admires her faith but who is weaker himself, and encourages her to go against some of her beliefs.
Hale, Shannon	The Goose Girl	*	9-12	Ms. Hale takes fairy tales and makes novels from them that explain in a logical way, why the events happen. In this tale about a prince who ends up marrying the girl who was taking care of his geese, there is no magical curse. Instead, the princess is a shy, awkward first born who never meets her mother's expectations of what a future queen should be. So the mother sends her off to marry a prince in another land. On the way, her lady-in-waiting leads a mutiny that results in the maid claiming to be the princess. The king is a kind and wise ruler, and the princess ends up with some real friends, who happen to be other animal tenders.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Hentoff, Nat	The Day They Came to Arrest the Book		9-12	Although written at a middle school level, this book would be excellent for a class discussion about book censorship. All sides are presented well, but the author and, therefore, the central characters are in favor of unlimited free access to all books, no matter how racist or immoral.
Hirt, Douglas	The Ordeal of Andy Dean	*	9-12	In this realistic western, a small girl, nicknamed Andy by the outlaws who have rescued her from her burnt out house, remains faithful to what her parents have taught her. She will not lie, even to save herself, and by the end of the book, she has reminded two of the outlaws of what goodness used to mean to them.
Jacobs, Harriet	Incidents in the Life of a Slave Girl		9-12	This autobiography tells the story of Harriet, who is born as a slave in NC in 1813. Her grandmother's and her faith helps Harriet retain a dignified sense of self and enables her to eventually flee to the North where she discovers slavery is also present. Interesting, factual, written honestly and in an Islamically appropriate manner – for example, the obsessive lust her owner has for her is written about in a way suitable for all Muslims to read.
Jourdan, Carolyn	A Heart in the Right Place		9-12	An autobiography of an Appalachian woman who left a highly paid job as a lawyer in DC to return home to help her parents and her community.
Kadohata, Cynthia	Kira-Kira	*	9-12	Katie's older sister teaches her to enjoy her surroundings, thinking that everything is kira-kira ('glittering' in Japanese). They are very close until the older becomes a teen and starts to have other friends and interests. Then the older sister develops (and dies) from leukemia so in the end Katie is taking care of her. Good family relations.
Kamkwamba, William and Bryan Mealer	The Boy Who Harnessed the Wind		9-12	This is an autobiography of a teenage boy in Malawi who teaches himself about electricity and builds a windmill out of scraps that provides electricity for lights in his village home. It is an inspiring story of what someone can do even if he has little education and absolutely no money.
Karr, Kathleen	Born for Adventure	*	9-12	This historical novel's hero is a youth who manages to go on the great explorer Henry Morton Stanley's relief of Emin Pash Expedition in 1887 from Zanzibar to the mouth of the Congo River and beyond. As the cover says, it is "a startling, scary and surprising" true story. The European's prejudice and disdain for all colored people is accurately portrayed while the youth sees Africans as people of equal value, and their cultures worthy of respect.
Kerr, P.B.	Children of the Lamp Series		9-12	This is either an excellent series, or a series to be avoided depending on how you feel about altering Islamic truths. The author has used Islamic definitions of the jinn except they are in charge of all the luck in the world – good and bad. Twelve year old twins, born of a human father and jinn mother, are good jinn who help their jinn uncle fight the bad jinn. Book One has them in Egypt dealing with an ancient pharaoh. Book Two has them in a subterranean Babylon from long ago.

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Lin, Grace	Where the Mountain Meets the Moon		9-12	A young Chinese girl goes off to find out how to bring fortune to her poor parents, only to learn that their loving each other is their real fortune. The parents also learn to be thankful for what they have. Many other stories are contained within this story.
Mortenson, Greg	Stones into Schools		9-12	Greg goes to Afghanistan to build more schools, sometimes in very inaccessible places. True story.
Mortenson, Greg and David Relin	Three Cups of Tea: One Man's Mission to Promote Peace...One School at a Time		9-12	The author is not a Muslim, but he respects Islam and acts accordingly. He has built more than 100 schools in rural areas of Pakistan and Afghanistan.
Mull, Brandon	Fablehaven (series)	*	9-12	An exciting series with magical creatures, Kendra and her brother help their grandfather save these creatures in protected spaces. Good family relations.
Myers, Walter Dean	Now Is Your Time!: The African-American Struggle for Freedom		9-12	A non fiction account from Muslim empires in Africa to slavery in America up to the modern Civil Rights Movement, told through the biographies of real African Americans. The several references to Muslims and/or Islam are positive, and the first personal story is told of Abd al-Rahman Ibrahim, the Muslim prince who was a slave in Mississippi.
Owen, James	Here, There be Dragons, (Chronicles of the Imaginarium Geographica)	*	9-12	An exciting fantasy adventure of three Oxford students who travel into the imaginary lands. Lots of literary references. This is the first of the potential series and romance is within Islamic bounds.
Pon, Cindy	Silver Phoenix	*	9-12	Ai Lang, a 17 year old Chinese girl in the ancient kingdom of Xia, has brought dishonor on her family by being rejected as a bride. Her family is supportive of her, but then her father goes missing. She goes to find him, through many encounters with evil monsters and magic and goddesses. Ai Lang falls in love with a mixed race boy named Chen Yong, but the feeling is not mutual and in the end the boy leaves her. The couple may be given a second chance at a happy ending in the sequel Fury of the Phoenix .
Potter, Ellen	The Kneebone Boy	*	9-12	The three Hardscrabble children are strange: Otto doesn't speak, Lucia is too candid, and Max likes to sit on the roof of their house. The bookflap says it is a "wickedly dark, unusual, and compelling novel." It also features a family that loves each other.
Raskin, Ellen	The Westing Game		9-12	This very entertaining, very inventive mystery involves 16

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
				people who are included in the will of a very rich excentric man. All they have to do to inherit millions is to answer the question - but no one knows what the question is.
Rinaldi, Ann	Finishing Becca: A Story About Peggy Shippen and Benedict Arnold	*	9-12	In this historical novel, a young girl named Becca is a servant of Peggy Shippen, a British sympathizer during the days of the American Revolution, who eventually marries Benedict Arnold and convinces him to go over to the British side.
Robert, Na'ima	From Somalia, With Love		9-12	Somali Safia has spent enough time in America to feel at home although she struggles with remaining good (while her friend and brother seem to enjoy their religion-less freedom so much), and she worries how her father will deal with his Americanized children when he finally arrives from Somalia.
Robert, Nai'ma B.	Boy vs. Girl		9-12	A brother and sister with immigrant Pakistani parents have different problems at school. The girl is beautiful, very popular, and really likes a boy named Malik. Then she feels the need to be a better Muslim and struggles when her hijab turns her into a nonentity at school, and she knows she has to stop communicating with and seeing Malik. Her brother is sensitive and not able to stand up for himself. He falls into a drug running gang, partially to protect himself from some bullies at school. During Ramadan he also decides to become a better Muslim, but how does he get out of the gang? The book is not preachy and demonstrates the benefit of being a practicing Muslim.
Robinson, Barbara	Trace Through the Forest	*	9-12	A historical novel about a small group of white people, including the boy Jim, who blaze the Ohio trail (trace) from Wheeling through Ohio to the Ohio River. Sympathetic look at the Indian side of the whites' movement westward. Jim learns to be an excellent hunter and outdoorsman in the process, through the help of both white and Indian adult friends. He is with the group in order to find his father who had left a year earlier to find a better place for his family.
Wein, Elizabeth	The Lion Hunter (Mark of Solomon)	*	9-12	Telmakos is a royal Aksumite (Ethiopian) who loves lions and Seluki dogs. After losing an arm to a lion he befriends, he is sent to be fostered by Abraha in Yemen. Fiction based on historical characters. The Empty Kingdom is the second book in the Mark of Solomon series.
Wilson, Eva	Islamic Designs for Artists and Craftspeople	*	9-12	This is both a book of Islamic designs identified by country of origin and century and a pattern book that illustrates the geometric shapes used in particular designs.
Wulffson, Don	The Golden Rat	*	9-12	This is an exciting historical mystery taking place in ancient China. A young man is accused of killing his mother-in-law. He is tried, convicted, and sentenced to death by beheading. Throughout his trial, prison time, release, and re-arrest, the novel poses thought-provoking questions about how we are judged for our mistakes, both large and small.

To order these books, please help the ISLA and order via our website's Amazon connection: <http://www.theisla.org/staticpages/index.php/FindABook>

Author	Title	Rating	Grade	Description
Zaouali, Lilia	Medieval Cuisine of the Islamic World		9-12	This is a very interesting, concise history with 174 recipes, even if you don't want to try out the recipes.
Zimmer, Tracie Vaughn	Reaching for Sun	*	9-12	Although it has a 'best friend is the opposite gender' slant, this is an excellent story of a girl born with cerebral palsy who accepts herself as she is and learns that she can do whatever she wants if she is patient and tries hard enough. The boy who moves in next door accepts her as she is and becomes friends because they are both capable thinkers.